STATEMENT OF ADMINISTRATIVE RESPONSIBILITY FOR FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

The University is responsible for the preparation of the financial statements and has prepared them in accordance with Canadian generally accepted accounting principles prescribed for not-for-profit organizations by the Canadian Institute of Chartered Accountants. The financial statements present fairly the financial position of the University as at March 31, 2007 and the results of its operations and the changes in its net assets for the year then ended.

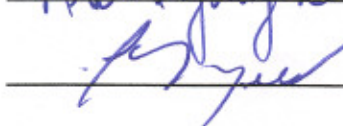

In fulfilling its responsibilities and recognizing the limits inherent in all systems, the University's administration has developed and maintains a system of internal controls designed to provide reasonable assurance that the University assets are safeguarded from loss and that the accounting records are reliable basis for the preparation of financial statements. The system of internal controls is monitored by the University's internal auditor.

The Board of Governors carries out its responsibility for review of the financial statements principally through its audit committee. The members of the Audit Committee are not officers or employees of the University. The Audit Committee meets with the administration and with the internal and external auditors to discuss the results of audit examinations and financial reporting matters. The auditors have full access to the Audit Committee, with and without the presence of the Administration.

The financial statements have been examined by KPMG LLP, Chartered Accountants, the external auditors appointed by the University's Board of Governors. The Auditor's report outlines the nature of their examination and expresses an opinion on the financial statements of the University for the year ended March 31, 2007.

AUDITORS' REPORT

To the Board of Governors of Thompson Rivers University

We have audited the statement of financial position of Thompson Rivers University as at March 31, 2007 and the statements of operations and changes in unrestricted net assets, changes in net assets and cash flows for the year then ended. These financial statements are the responsibility of the University's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audit.

We conducted our audit in accordance with Canadian generally accepted auditing standards. Those standards require that we plan and perform an audit to obtain reasonable assurance whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation.

In our opinion, these financial statements present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of the University as at March 31, 2007 and the results of its operations and cash flows for the year then ended in accordance with Canadian generally accepted accounting principles.

THOMPSON RIVERS UNIVERSITY

Notes to Financial Statements

Year ended March 31, 2007

Thompson Rivers University ("the University") operates under the authority of the Thompson Rivers University Act of British Columbia as a fully independent degree granting institution. The University offers a broad range of program options including undergraduate, graduate degrees, career diplomas, and trades training at its Kamloops and Williams Lake campuses through Face-To-Face and Open Learning. The University is a not-for-profit entity, governed by a Board of Governors, the majority of which are appointed by the provincial government of British Columbia. The University is a registered charity and therefore is exempt from income tax under section 149 of the Income Tax Act.

1. Significant accounting policies:

These financial statements have been prepared by management in accordance with Canadian generally accepted accounting principles for not-for-profit organizations, which encompass the following principles:

(a) Fund accounting:

Thompson Rivers University records accounting transactions using the fund accounting method generally in use for not-for-profit organizations and follows the deferral method of accounting for contributions. A fund is determined for the purpose of carrying on specific activities or attaining certain objectives in accordance with special regulations, restrictions or limitations.

For financial statement presentation purposes the University has combined the assets, liabilities and net assets and revenue and expenses of all funds. Accordingly, the financial statements reflect the assets, liabilities and net assets and revenue and expenses of the University as a whole. Certain 2006 comparative figures have been reclassified in order to conform with the financial statement presentation adopted in the current year.

(b) Revenue recognition:

The University follows the deferral method of accounting for contributions. Unrestricted revenues include: Grants, tuition fees, ancillary services, sales access and other fees and other income. These are recognized as revenues at the time the product is delivered or the services are substantially completed and proceeds are collected or reasonably collectible. The operating grant from the Province of British Columbia is considered unrestricted and recorded in the period to which the funds relate.

Notes to Financial Statements

1. Significant accounting policies (continued):

(b) Revenue recognition (continued):

Specifically:

- (i) Tuition fees are collected at the commencement of the course but recognized as revenues over the term of the course.
- (ii) Grants are recognized as revenue as the requirements of the grant are met. Grants that do not have any restrictions or requirements are recognized as revenue when received.
- (iii) Contributions restricted for the purchase of capital assets are deferred and amortized to revenue on the same basis as the amortization expense related to the acquired capital assets.
- (iv) Interest revenues and losses are recognized as earned. Interest earned on internally or externally restricted contributions is recognized as revenue at the same time those contributions are recognized.
- (v) Externally restricted non-capital contributions for specific purposes are recognized as revenue in the year which the related expenses are incurred.
- (vi) Contributions where the capital asset involved is land or works of art to be held for use by the University, the contribution is recorded as a direct increase in net assets invested in capital assets rather than as revenue.

(c) Inventories:

Inventories of merchandise held for resale is recorded at the lower of cost and net realizable value.

(d) Employee future benefits:

Accrued vacation and sick leave entitlements are charged to the operating fund based on the estimated actuarial determined present value of the expected use of the entitlements. The University is a member of multi-employer pension plans and applies defined contribution plan accounting.

(e) Investments:

Short-term investments, which are recorded at the lower of cost and market value, are defined to include investments with terms to maturity of less than one year.

Long-term investments, are recorded at the lower of cost and market value, are defined to include investments with original terms to maturity of greater than one year.

THOMPSON RIVERS UNIVERSITY

Year ended March 31, 2007

1. Significant accounting policies (continued):

(f) Capital assets:

Purchased capital assets are recorded at cost. Contributed capital assets are recorded at fair value at the date of the contribution. Capital assets are amortized on a straight-line basis over their estimated useful lives as follows:

Asset	Rate
Site improvements	10 years
Buildings - wood frame	20 years
Buildings - concrete/steel	40 years
Furniture, fixtures and equipment	5 - 7 years
Library acquisitions	10 years
Software	2 years

Capital assets are written down to net realizable value at the point they no longer contribute to the University's ability to provide services. Deferred capital contributions associated with the written down capital asset are recognized as revenue if all restrictions have been complied with.

(g) Financial instruments:

The University's financial instruments consist of cash, investments and marketable securities, accounts receivable, accounts payable and accrued liabilities, deferred revenue, long-term debt and interest rate swap arrangements and obligation under capital lease. The carrying value of cash, current portion of investments and marketable securities, accounts receivable, accounts payable and accrued liabilities and deferred revenue approximate their fair value because of the relatively short period to maturity of the instruments.

The fair value of the long-term portion of investments and marketable securities is based on the year end quoted market bid price for the related investment instruments and is disclosed in note 2.

The fair values of long-term debt and the interest rate swap agreement are measured as the present value of contractual future payments of principal and interest, discounted at the current market rates of interest available to the University for the same or similar instruments. Carrying value approximates fair value for these instruments as the instruments' rates are not significantly different than market rates.

Year ended March 31, 2007

1. Significant accounting policies (continued):

(g) Financial instruments (continued):

The fair value of the capital lease obligation is measured as the present value of contractual future lease payments discounted at the current market rate for similar leases. Carrying value approximates fair value.

It is management's opinion that the University is not subject to any significant interest rate, currency or credit risk associated with these financial instruments.

(h) Use of estimates:

The preparation of financial statements requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenue and expenses during the reporting period. Significant areas requiring the use of management estimates relate to the determination of useful lives of capital assets for amortization and the amortization of related deferred capital contributions and provisions for employee future benefits and contingencies. Actual results may differ from these estimates.

2. Long and short-term investments:

Investments consist primarily of bonds with various maturity dates and interest rates with a weighted average rate of return of 5.46% (2006 - 5.82%). Included in the cost of investments are funds held in trust for employees who participate in the deferred salary plan. At March 31, 2007, funds held in trust for this plan were $195,837 (2006 - $164,903) and the liability associated with the plan is recorded in wages payable.

The balance in investments consists of:

	Market	Cost	Accrued interest	Total

5. Employee future benefits:

(a) Employee sick and severance benefits:

Employees with ten or more years of service are entitled to receive special payments upon retirement or termination as specified by the collective agreements. These payments are based upon accumulated sick leave credits and entitlements for each year of service.

Information about employee sick and severance benefits is as follows:

	2007	2006
Accrued benefit obligation:
Termination benefits	$ 5,547,313	$ 5,248,613
Vacation pay benefits	5,654,593	5,121,438

Termination and vacation pay expense included in salaries and benefits expense	$ 831,856	$ 680,498

(b) Pension liability:

The University and its employees contribute to the College Pension Plan and Municipal Pension Plan, jointly trustee pension plans. The boards of trustees for these plans represent plan members and employers and are responsible for the management of the pension plan including investment of the assets and administration of benefits. The pension plans are multi-employer contributory pension plans. Basic pension benefits provided are defined. The College Pension Plan has about 11,000 active members from senior administration and instructional staff and approximately 3,200 retired members. The Municipal Pension Plan has about 130,000 active members, with approximately 4,900 from post secondary institutions.

Every three years an actuarial valuation is performed to assess the financial position of the plan and the adequacy of the plan funding. The most recent valuation for the College Pension Plan as at August 31, 2003 indicated an unfunded liability of $50 million for basic pension benefits. The next valuation will be as at August 31, 2006 with results available in 2007. The most recent valuation for the Municipal Pension Plan as at December 31, 2003 indicated an unfunded liability of $789 million for basic pension benefits. The next valuation will be as at December 31, 2006 with results available in 2007. The actuary does not attribute portions of the unfunded liability to individual employers. The Thompson Rivers University paid $4,391,705 (2006 - $4,375,421) for employer contributions to the Plans in fiscal 2007. The University has 1,078 members enrolled in these plans.

8. Capital lease obligation:

The University has entered into a Land Lease with Dacon Corporation Ltd. ("Dacon"). Under the terms of the Land Lease, the University has leased 0.5 of a hectare of land on its Kamloops Campus to Dacon from April 1, 2005 to August 31, 2047. The Land Lease required Dacon to construct a student residence with approximately 580 beds in accordance with plans approved by the University. Annual rent under the Land Lease is $5,000 for the term of the agreement, plus a surrender fee at the end of the lease equal to Dacon's equity invested into the assets constructed on the land.

A Project Financing Agreement between the University, Dacon and Desjardins Trust Inc. obligates the University to make payments of principal and interest on the indebtedness incurred on the construction of the residence if for any reason the payments are not made by the primary debtor, Dacon.

The University has also entered into a Sublease with Dacon. Under the terms of the Sublease, the University leases the student residence from Dacon from September 1, 2006 for the term of the Land Lease less one day. Rent under the Sublease is (i) Dacon's debt service costs associated with the financing of the residence, and (ii) during the first two years of the Sublease only, 90% of the free cash flow each year (net of a contribution to a capital reserve fund) from the residence as defined in the Sublease (the "Cashflow"); and (iii) during the balance of the Sublease, 60% of the cashflow.

The University has entered into a Management Agreement with Dacon and Campus Living Centres Inc. ("CLC"), a wholly owned subsidiary of Dacon. Under the terms of the management agreement, the University retains CLC, for the term of the Sublease, to manage the residence and to comply with the obligations of the University under the sublease.
