The University of the Fraser Valley Board of Governors is responsible for the executive compensation of its President and Vice-Chancellor. The maximum base salary and total compensation allowable for the President and Vice-Chancellor is set and determined by PSEC.

The President's salary is the highest salary paid to a senior executive at University of the Fraser Valley and all other executive compensation is set below this maximum. Through delegated authority by the Board, the President and Vice-Chancellor is responsible for determining the compensation of the other executive members.

Merit Pay

The University of the Fraser Valley's senior executives progress through the salary range based on merit. The amount of merit pay is determined through the annual performance review process, and includes the setting of annual objectives.

Annual objectives are determined for all members of the senior executive. In the case of the university President, the setting of objectives and how they will be measured is determined by the University Board in consultation with the President. Objectives for Vice-Presidents and how they will be measured are established by the President in discussion with each Vice-President. Measures may be qualitative or quantitative.
