A New Era of Government Service

Three-year service plans represent an important part of the government's commitment to open and accountable government. In August 2001, the government amended the Budget Transparency and Accountability Act to require government to table a three-year Strategic Plan and annual three-year Service Plans for ministries and government organizations with the provincial budget. These plans will ensure government and its individual ministries clearly outline their goals, and enable British Columbians to hold government accountable for its decisions and actions.

The government's three-year Strategic Plan articulates the government's vision: British Columbia is a prosperous and just province, whose citizens achieve their potential and have confidence in the future. It also establishes three strategic goals that are key to achieving the government's overall vision:

- A strong and vibrant provincial economy
- A supportive social fabric
- Safe, healthy communities and a sustainable environment.

This Service Plan details the Office of the Premier's mission and objectives, which support the government's strategic goals. The Service Plan also includes performance measures that will be used to assess the Office of the Premier's progress in achieving those objectives. Objectives and performance measures are a new initiative for ministries and government organizations. In some cases, as planning progresses, performance measures will become more detailed as they are further developed. After the end of each fiscal year, the Office of the Premier will prepare a Service Plan report that describes the actual accomplishments for the year.

The Service Plan report for 2002/03 will include a comparison of planned and actual results, from both a financial and performance measure perspective, and allows the public to assess the government's performance. Service Plans and Service Plan Reports prepared by government ministries and organizations are the key tools by which government will manage public resources to ensure government programs are contributing, in a measurable way, to key government priorities. The government's three-year Strategic Plan and ministries' three-year Service Plans guide the reform of the province's public services so they meet British Columbians' needs. Measures to revitalize economic prosperity and protect and renew public services will lay the groundwork for a future of new opportunities for all British Columbians.

Accountability Statements

The 2003/04 – 2005/06 Office of the Premier Service Plan was prepared under my direction in accordance with the Budget Transparency and Accountability Act. I am accountable for the basis on which the plan has been prepared. The plan was developed in the context of the government's New Era commitments, which are to be addressed by May 17, 2005. All material fiscal assumptions and policy decisions as of January 28, 2003, have been considered in preparing the plan, and I am accountable for achieving the specific objectives in the plan.

Honourable Gordon Campbell
Premier

I am the Minister of State for Intergovernmental Relations, and under the Balanced Budget and Ministerial Accountability Act, I am accountable for achieving the following results for 2003/04:

 - 2010 Olympic Games (when the Vancouver Bid is successful)
 - Kicking Horse Canyon
 - Richmond/Airport to Vancouver Rapid Transit
 - Canada/U.S. Border Improvements
 - Softwood Worker and Community Assistance
 - Life Sciences Initiative.
2. Reduce or eliminate duplication and overlap between the Government of British Columbia and the Government of Canada in 20% of the 47 areas identified in the Duplication and Overlap Strategy developed in 2002/03.
3. Complete an assessment of whether British Columbia receives a fair share of federal discretionary spending and pursue a strategy to achieve a more equitable distribution of federal spending and benefits for the province.

Office of the Premier

A Message from the Premier

I have the honour of submitting the Office of the Premier Service Plan for the period April 1, 2003, to March 31, 2006. This plan is presented in accordance with Section 13 of the Budget Transparency and Accountability Act.

The next three years will present both challenges and opportunities for government. The global economic recession has posed many challenges and requires strong fiscal management, but as economic growth returns the opportunities for a resource-rich and skills-rich British Columbia will abound. Over the past year British Columbia's economy has begun to turn the corner, out-performing many of the forecasts made during the past year. We have created over 75,000 new jobs during the year, alongside double-digit growth in housing starts and a flourishing consumer sector. However, the province continues to face many economic challenges. Perhaps the greatest impact on our efforts to revitalize the economy has been the result of external forces, such as U.S. protectionism. We have been working closely with Canadian and international governments to open the doors to commerce and cultural activities with other nations, so that British Columbia is a leader in Canada.

As we look to the challenges that confront us — whether they are in health care, education or revitalizing the economy — we have to open our minds to the inherent opportunities British Columbia possesses. With our natural resources and our talented people, there is absolutely no reason that British Columbia should not be making a major contribution to the Canadian economy and to the quality of life of every single person who lives here. This government is working to position British Columbia to take full advantage of those opportunities. The Office of the Premier will lead and support the ministries in this work, consistent with this work, consistent with this Service Plan.

Honourable Gordon Campbell
Premier
