A New Era of Government Service

Three-year Service Plans represent an important part of the government's commitment to open and accountable government. In August 2001, the government amended the Budget Transparency and Accountability Act to require government to table a three-year Strategic Plan and annual three-year service plans for ministries and government organizations with the provincial budget. These Plans will ensure government and its individual ministries clearly outline their goals, and enable British Columbians to hold government accountable for its decisions and actions.

The government's Three Year Strategic Plan articulates the government's vision: British Columbia is a prosperous and just province, whose citizens achieve their potential and have confidence in the future. It also establishes three strategic goals that are key to achieving the government's overall vision:

- A strong and vibrant provincial economy
- A supportive social infrastructure
- Safe, healthy communities and a sustainable environment

This Service Plan details the Ministry's mission and objectives, which support the government's strategic goals. The Service Plan also includes performance measures that will be used to assess the Ministry's progress in achieving its objectives. Ministry objectives and performance measures are a new initiative. In some cases, as planning progresses, performance measures will become more detailed as they are further developed.

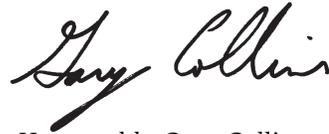

After the end of each fiscal year, the ministry will prepare a Service Plan Report that will describe actual accomplishments for the year just completed. The Report will include a comparison of planned and actual results, from both a financial and performance measure perspective and allow the public to assess the government's performance.

In the years ahead, Service Plans and Service Plan Reports, prepared by government ministries and organizations, will become the key tool by which government will manage public resources to ensure government programs are contributing, in a measurable way, to key government priorities in an efficient and effective manner.

The government's three-year Strategic Plan and Ministry three-year Service Plans will guide the reform of the province's public services so they meet British Columbians' needs. Measures to revitalize economic prosperity and protect and renew public services will lay the groundwork for a future of new opportunity for all British Columbians.

Accountability Statement

The 2002/03 – 2004/05 Ministry of Finance Service Plan was prepared under my direction in accordance with the Budget Transparency and Accountability Act. I am accountable for the basis on which the plan has been prepared. The plan was developed in the context of the government's New Era commitments which are to be addressed by May 17, 2005. All material fiscal assumptions and policy decisions as of January 28, 2002 have been considered in preparing the plan and I am accountable for achieving the specific objectives in the plan.

Ministry of Finance

I have the honour of submitting the Ministry of Finance Service Plan for the period April 1, 2002, to March 31, 2005. This plan is presented in accordance with section 13 of the Budget Transparency and Accountability Act.

The Ministry of Finance plays a pivotal role in establishing and implementing government's financial and management policies and initiatives. Our core services include: providing advice to support government's financial and economic objectives, financial management and regulation, financial reporting, and administrative support.

In his letter of June 25, 2001, the Premier outlined several key responsibilities for the Ministry of Finance. The attached Service Plan reflects the achievement of several of these specific objectives and outlines a strategy to meet our commitments over the next three years.

Specifically, the Ministry has established a budgeting and planning framework to help government to achieve its financial and economic development objectives. Our primary initiatives relate to re-aligning governance and advisory resources to focus on key risks and opportunities, introduction of a new capital management framework, requiring the electronic delivery of business registration services, consolidating and streamlining reporting and administrative functions, designing a proactive collective bargaining mandate, and expanding the government's risk management programs. In addition, the Ministry will restructure unclaimed property services and will streamline corporate systems development initiatives with a new cost-recovery framework.

I am proud of the commitment made by Ministry staff in working towards achievement of this plan. As a result, I am confident that the Ministry of Finance will remain an example of excellence in public-sector service delivery.

A. Strategic Context

Vision

To be a responsive organization that is a model for leadership in promoting sound fiscal management and governance in an open and accountable public-sector environment.

Mission

To develop a sustainable fiscal plan, to prudently manage government finances, and to create a sound policy and regulatory framework that supports the government's investment and economic development objectives.

Values and Leadership Philosophy

Our Values are:

Accountability

Innovation

Respect and Integrity

Trust and Honesty

Our Leadership Philosophy is to:

- be accessible and responsive to our client needs
- measure and report on our performance at all levels
- recognize achievement and learn from our mistakes
- support a risk-based management system that encourages competency and performance
- focus resources and analysis on those activities that present the greatest opportunities or pose the greatest risk to the government's fiscal and economic plan
- explore new partnerships and ideas about how we do our business
- embrace technological change to capture new opportunities
- make strategic investments in our people
- focus on our customers and clients
- provide leadership and encourage teamwork
- value diversity and differences of opinion
- protect confidentiality of information
- keep our activities and outputs open and transparent
- respond to feedback from the public and our clients
- ensure clear and open communication

Planning Context

The contextual factors that present challenges, opportunities and risks for the Ministry of Finance over the next three years include:

I. External Factors:

- Uncertainty in worldwide economic growth and commodity markets create risks for government revenues and expenditures
- Globalization of economic and financial markets increases competition for investment
- Technological innovations provide opportunities for greater productivity and efficiency
- Increasing demands for more efficient and client-centered delivery of services and programs
- Changes to Public Sector Accounting Board (PSAB) accounting and reporting standards
- Changing demographics may create a skilled-labour shortage
- Changes in labour market dynamics require a new model for managing public-sector contracts

II. Internal Factors:

- Government's legislated commitment to balance the budget beginning in 2004/05 and the Core Services Review lead to increased focus on streamlined and efficient delivery of programs and services
- The shift from an output to an outcome focused organization requires results based strategies
- Government's deregulation initiative requires a review of all current legislation and policies
- The shift towards risk-based management requires redeployment of Ministry resources to those areas that present the greatest risks or opportunities
- Government's commitment to encourage alternative public service delivery including public-private partnerships will require a new capital management framework and a restructured organization
- The expanded reporting entity (including Crown corporations and agencies) and the move toward full implementation of generally accepted accounting principles (GAAP) will significantly change the budget and financial statements and the process to prepare them
- An aging workforce presents significant succession and recruitment challenges
- Changes to programs and adoption of new technology will require additional training and development for staff

B. Strategic Shifts

The strategic shifts being undertaken by the Ministry are as follows:

- From advising and treating all clients the same to focusing on major risks and opportunities.
- From a “command and control” approach to one based on accountability and performance measurement of ministries, Crown corporations, and agencies.
- From a one-year planning horizon to a multi-year planning framework.
- From a focus on ministries, Crown corporations, and agencies to the larger government entity (including schools, health authorities and some post-secondary institutions).

C. Consistency with Government Priorities

The Ministry of Finance's service plan strategies are consistent with and support government's New Era commitments and priorities. In 2001/02, the Ministry completed the following:

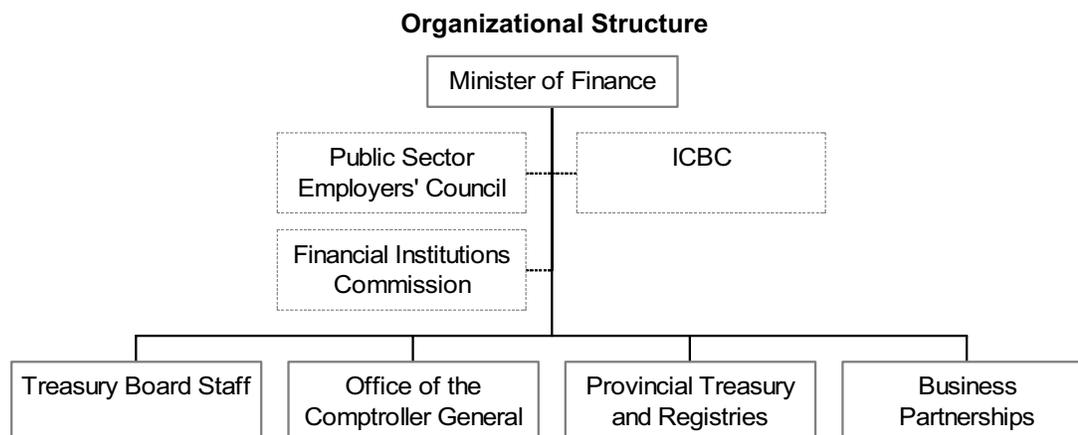

- Established a three-year planning framework to balance the budget beginning in 2004/05
- Developed and implemented a timetable for more than $2 billion in annual tax cuts to encourage investment and innovation
- Completed the majority of public sector labour negotiations
- Streamlined and restructured the Public Sector Employers' Council (PSEC) in September 2001

Other government priorities that are addressed in the Ministry's service plan include:

- Support development of three-year service plans for ministries and Crown agencies, with a focus on accountability and performance
- Effectively regulate the provincial business environment
- Enhance accountability, reporting and transparency
- Streamline capital approval process and sponsor use of public-private partnerships
- Responsible, accountable management of public resources and tax dollars.

D. Core Business Areas and Goals

The Ministry is comprised of four major divisions and three related agencies:

The Ministry's goals and objectives are supported by four core business areas:

- 1. Providing advice to support government's financial and economic objectives: Assists the government in reaching informed decisions by providing advice and support to the Minister of Finance, Treasury Board, Government Caucus Committees, and Cabinet on financial, social, economic, and tax policy issues along with intergovernmental arrangements. Provides support to ministries and agencies for policy development and budget planning. Consolidates the capital plans of ministries, Crown corporations, and agencies to enable the government to manage its capital program within its fiscal framework. Provides strategic advice and support for public sector labour relations.
- 2. Financial management and regulation: Develops and manages the government's three-year financial plan and associated risks and opportunities. Provides corporate and personal property registration services to support business activities in the province. Manages government cash flows and debt to maximize investment returns and to minimize interest costs. Provides a financial management policy framework for government. Provides a Corporate Accounting and Reporting System for government. Provides internal audit services to support ministry and cross-government activities. Provides insurance, risk mitigation and business continuation planning services to the public sector.

- 3. Financial reporting: Produces financial and economic reports to assist the public, investors, and credit rating agencies in understanding the government's fiscal position. These reports include the government's Three Year Fiscal Plan and Budget, the Estimates, Quarterly Reports, the Financial and Economic Review, Public Accounts, and Debt Statistics reports.
- 4. Executive and administrative support services: Provides overall direction, development, and support for ministry programs.

Other Program Initiatives

- The BC Family Bonus Program is administered by the federal government through its Canada Child Tax Benefit system and is designed to assist low-income families. Since 1998, the Province has reduced its annual contribution as the federal government has increased its funding for this program. Despite these changes, families will still receive an annual increase in their benefits; it will be less than if no changes were being made.
- In keeping with the government objective to focus on core business activities, the Ministry will divest itself of its unclaimed property responsibilities. The Ministry will identify and review other models for managing this activity.

- Corporate Online System (COLIN) and Corporate Annual Report System (CARS): development will support the electronic delivery of all registry services
- Enterprise-Wide Risk Management software: will support the expansion of the government's risk management and self-insurance activities
- Debt Management System (DMS): development will support proactive management of government debt and streamline existing reporting and forecasting activities

- Certificate of Approval Program (COA): re-development of the system to support the tracking of capital expenditures by ministries and Crown agencies
- Electronic banking: implementation of new technology and payment/receipt mechanisms to support the E-Government initiative

The Ministry will also identify opportunities and support development of information sharing and cross-government systems, including one-stop business registration, single business number, and a central web-portal. As well, the Ministry will work with the private sector to identify opportunities for alternative electronic service delivery models.
