Introduction

This Guide

This guide outlines the requirements of the Liquor Control and Licensing Act and Regulations for serving and consuming liquor in liquor-primary establishments (such as bars, pubs, night clubs, recreation centres and stadiums) and in liquor-primary clubs (private clubs). It also imposes further terms and conditions, in addition to those found in the Liquor Control and Licensing Act and Regulations.*

Like the requirements contained in the Act and Regulations, these additional terms and conditions – and any further terms and conditions that might be printed on the face of your licence or contained in letters issued to you by the general manager of the Liquor Control and Licensing Branch – must be followed at all times.

As a licensee, it is your responsibility to operate your business so that it complies with the law and with the terms and conditions of your licence.

*Section 12 of the Liquor Control and Licensing Act provides the general manager with the authority to impose, in the public interest, terms and conditions on licences.

Important!

Please take time to read this guide carefully and make sure your managers and staff are familiar with the information presented here, and with any additional terms and conditions printed on the face of your licence and/or in letters issued by the Liquor Control and Licensing Branch.

Definitions Used in this Guide

“The Act” means the Liquor Control and Licensing Act, the provincial legislation that guides the licensing of establishments that manufacture or sell liquor in B.C.

Please note:

Wherever definitions, words or expressions used in this guide differ from the wording of the Liquor Control and Licensing Act and Regulations, the legislation will prevail.

“The branch” means the Liquor Control and Licensing Branch, the government agency that administers the Act.

“Food-primary” refers to a licensed establishment where the service of food, as opposed to liquor, is the primary focus of the business.

“The general manager” means the general manager of the Liquor Control and Licensing Branch.

“Licensee” refers to any individual, individuals or corporate body that holds a British Columbia liquor licence. The term covers both the licensee of record and any person acting in the place of the licensee, such as a manager or person in charge of an establishment in the licensee’s absence, and staff or entertainers working in the establishment.

“Liquor-primary” refers to a licensed establishment where the service of liquor, as opposed to food, is the primary focus of the business.

“Liquor-primary club” refers to a private club (e.g., legion) that is licensed to serve liquor to members and their guests.

“Manufacturer” means a manufacturer of liquor products (i.e., beer, wine, spirits, cider and coolers) or the corporate official of a liquor manufacturer.

“Occupant load” means the number of persons, including staff, who may be in a licensed premises at one time. The number is calculated by local fire and building officials or other designated professionals, such as architects and engineers. The occupant load calculation must be the least number of people allowed under the relevant provincial regulations or municipal bylaws.

“Patron capacity” means the maximum number of persons, not counting staff, who may be in a licensed premises at one time.

“Person capacity” means the maximum number of persons, including staff, who may be in a licensed premises at one time.

“Red-lined area” refers to the area within a licensed establishment where you may sell, serve and consume liquor.

“Representative” or “agent” means any agent of a manufacturer, employee of a manufacturer or employee of an agency that sells domestic or imported liquor products.

“Terms and conditions of licence” are requirements of licensees that are set by legislation, regulation or branch policy. All licence terms and conditions must be followed. Not following them may result in enforcement action.

Updates

Licence terms and conditions change from time to time. We will send out revisions to this guide periodically. In addition, an up-to-date copy is always available on the branch web site:

Background: Who is Responsible for What

The Liquor Control and Licensing Branch

The Liquor Control and Licensing Branch is responsible for regulating and monitoring the sale of liquor in licensed establishments in British Columbia, and for protecting the public from the harm that may be caused by making and selling liquor or products that contain alcohol.

The branch issues and supervises liquor licences, and monitors the activities of all liquor licensees in British Columbia to make sure they are following the rules laid out in the Liquor Control and Licensing Act, its Regulations, and their licence terms and conditions.

To make sure the public has full access to information about liquor licensees in this province, we post summaries of all cases where the branch has recommended enforcement action on our branch web site. For those cases that go to an enforcement hearing, we post the complete text of the decision. (Names of individuals are removed to comply with the requirements of the Freedom of Information and Protection of Privacy Act.)

Your Role as a Licensee

As a licensee (someone who holds a liquor licence), you are legally responsible for understanding how the Act, its Regulations, and the specific terms and conditions of your licence affect the operation of your establishment, and for complying with the Act, its Regulations, and the terms and conditions of your licence.

You are also responsible for making sure your employees follow B.C.'s liquor laws and the terms and conditions of your licence, even when you are not on site. In addition, you must let the branch know about any changes you make to your business or to the buildings you operate, and cooperate with liquor inspectors and police officers when they visit your establishment.

If you do not carry out your legal responsibilities, you could face serious penalties, including the suspension or loss of your licence.

The Role of the Liquor Inspector

Liquor Control and Licensing Branch liquor inspectors are located in regional offices across the province. They will regularly visit your licensed establishment – often arriving unannounced – to:

- explain the terms and conditions of your licence
- inspect the physical layout of your establishment
- inspect your legal, financial and business records
- observe and record your business practices, identifying gaps or weaknesses that are likely to lead to non-compliance (to you not following the Act, its Regulations and the terms and conditions of your licence), and
- identify any contraventions of the Act, Regulations or the terms and conditions of the licence occurring in your establishment.

If a liquor inspector finds you are contravening (not following) the Act, its Regulations or the terms and conditions of your licence, the inspector will issue a Contravention Notice and may recommend that the general manager take enforcement action against you.

Please note:

Liquor inspectors are a good resource. They can provide you with both help and advice, and we recommend you get to know your local liquor inspector as soon as possible.

The Role of Police

Police officers also make regular, unannounced visits to licensed establishments. The police consider these visits to be an important part of their routine patrols in the community.

When the police walk through your establishment, they will look for evidence of any liquor contraventions, especially those that could result in disturbances within the community or that could threaten public safety, such as drunkenness, overcrowding or minors in possession of alcohol. If the police notice a contravention, they will record it on a form called a Licensed Premises Check (LPC), leave one copy with you and send one to the Liquor Control and Licensing Branch.

The branch follows up on all LPCs, and may ask a liquor inspector to conduct a further inspection. If the inspector confirms the contravention, he or she will issue a Contravention Notice and may recommend enforcement action.

The Role of Local Government and First Nations

A liquor licence is only one requirement in opening a licensed establishment in British Columbia. Liquor licensees must also deal with local governments on such issues as zoning, building bylaws, business licensing requirements and health and fire Regulations.

Local governments are responsible for protecting the peace and good order of their communities and are often the first to learn about problems relating to licensed establishments. The general manager takes complaints from local governments that licensed establishments are operating contrary to the public interest and are disturbing people in the surrounding area very seriously.

Managing Your Business

Posting Your Licence

You must post your liquor licence certificate in a prominent location in the licensed area to ensure it is immediately available for review by liquor inspectors and police.

Storing Your Floor Plans

When you first applied for a liquor-primary licence, you submitted your establishment's floor plans for approval. Once they were approved by the general manager, these floor plans became part of your liquor licence. As with the licence certificate, liquor inspectors and the police must have quick and easy access to the information contained in your floor plans.

Your floor plans must be stored in the licensed area of the establishment, and must be immediately available for presentation to a liquor inspector or a police officer on request.

Renewing Your Licence

You must renew your licence each year and pay an annual licence fee. We calculate your fees based on the amount of liquor your business purchased from the Liquor Distribution Branch in the previous year – see the chart below:

Annual Liquor Purchases from the Liquor Distribution Branch	FEE
$12,500 or less	$ 275
over $12,500 and up to $20,000	$ 550
over $20,000 and up to $45,000	$ 825
over $45,000 and up to $100,000	$1,100
over $100,000 and up to $250,000	$1,300
over $250,000	$1,500

Providing Information to the Branch

You must be forthright in providing information to the branch. Making a misleading statement or failing to disclose a material fact (such as the fact that a third party is using your licence, or that the lease on your property is about to run out) are licensing contraventions.

Making Changes to Your Liquor Licence

The details of your liquor licence application – who you are, the location, size and layout of your establishment, etc. – are critical factors in the decision to grant a licence.

Any changes you intend to make to these factors after your licence is granted require the approval of the branch before you make the changes. (Please see Appendix 3 for detailed information about making changes to your licence.)

Selling Your Business and Transferring Your Licence to a New Owner

To transfer your liquor licence to a new owner, you will need to complete the Assignment of Establishment form. This is where you officially sign over the liquor licence to the new owner. If applicable, you must also give the new owner all records of liquor bought from the Liquor Distribution Branch in stock at the time of the sale.

The general manager may not approve a licence transfer if the branch is in the process of taking action against you as the current licensee.

Using Your Establishment for Unlicensed Events

You may use your establishment for unlicensed events (these are events where liquor is not served and that minors may attend), either during or outside your regular licensed hours.

To use your establishment for an unlicensed event during the hours noted on your liquor licence, you must:

apply to the general manager to have your licence temporarily suspended for a full 24 hours (partial evening suspensions are not permitted), and make sure all liquor is secured and inaccessible during the event.

To use your establishment for an unlicensed event outside the hours noted on your liquor licence, you do not need to apply for special permission, but you must:

- make sure all liquor is secured and inaccessible during the event, and
- remain closed for a full hour after the event, before you can re-open as a licensed establishment

Operating an Unlicensed Games Area

Liquor-primary licensees may apply to have a separate, unlicensed area where minors are allowed (such as a games area), provided building officials are able to calculate a separate occupant load for the licensed area, and the physical separation is both fixed and immovable to ensure the size of the licensed area is maintained.

If you have been approved for an unlicensed area:

- you must be able to control access to the licensed area
- you must ensure patrons do not take liquor into the unlicensed area, and

- patrons must be able to enter the unlicensed games area without having to go through the licensed area.

If you offer adult entertainment in the licensed area of your establishment, you must also ensure customers in the unlicensed area cannot see into the licensed area.

Buying, Storing, Selling and Serving Liquor

Buying liquor

You must purchase your liquor from a Liquor Distribution Branch liquor store or other outlet designated (in writing) by the general manager or the Liquor Distribution Branch.

Whenever you buy liquor, you must first identify yourself as a licensee. The liquor store will then record your purchase against your licence number. It is a serious contravention to buy liquor from another source, or to purchase liquor that is not recorded against your licence number.

Maintaining a liquor register

You must keep a detailed, written record of every liquor purchase made under your licence – by date – in a liquor register. This is usually a book or binder where you keep your copies of the documentation you receive every time you buy liquor.

Your liquor register must be available for inspection by a liquor inspector or police at any time. The inspector or police officer may look at your register and compare it to your liquor stock to make sure you have purchased your liquor in the proper way. It is not sufficient to simply store receipts of your liquor purchases and call these your record or your register.

Illicit or private liquor

You may not buy, keep, sell or give illicit liquor to anyone. Illicit liquor is defined as:

- liquor purchased “over the counter” from a source other than your designated liquor outlet
- stolen liquor
- smuggled liquor
- liquor intended for export

Please Note:

- Once you have closed your establishment for the night, you must remain closed until 6 a.m. You may not either sell liquor or use your establishment for an unlicensed event during this time.
- You may only apply for a temporary licence suspension occasionally. You may not regularly operate a teen/underage dance club during the week, and a licensed nightclub on the weekend.

- home manufactured or UBrew/UVin liquor
- liquor purchased as a medicinal, confectionery or culinary product that is being used as beverage alcohol
- liquor that has been adulterated or watered-down, and
- samples that may have been left by a liquor representative.

You are accountable for any illicit liquor found anywhere on your premises (service or storage area). It is not acceptable to say that illicit liquor made its way into your stock by accident, that it was a gift for personal use, or that an employee left it there.

If you recently purchased your establishment and acquired your licence through a transfer, you must conduct a thorough audit of all liquor on the premises to ensure none is illicit.

Because the risk of internal theft is high in licenced establishments, you must put safeguards in place to make sure staff or others do not water down or otherwise adulterate your liquor supply. The extent of the safeguards required will vary depending on the circumstances.

Culinary product containing alcohol that you keep for cooking must stay in the kitchen and separate from liquor kept for sale.

You also may not keep or serve liquor bought for private consumption in your establishment.

Faulty beer or cider kegs

Faulty or damaged kegs of beer or cider or kegs containing spoiled product may not be removed or replaced unless authorized by a liquor inspector.

When you discover a faulty keg or one containing spoiled product, you must record it in your liquor register and contact the branch to get an authorization number to have the keg either:

- held for inspection
- removed and held for inspection, or
- removed and replaced without inspection.

Hours of sale

You may sell liquor at your establishment only during the hours indicated on the face of your licence. You are prohibited from selling liquor – or using your establishment for any other purpose – between the time you close and 6 a.m.

All patrons must leave your establishment within half an hour – one hour in some communities – of liquor service ending (it will be stated on the face of your licence if you are allowed one hour).

On New Year's Eve, you may serve liquor until 4:00 a.m. on January 1, regardless of your normal closing hour (and provided food is available to customers), unless the general manager has directed otherwise or local bylaws prohibit it.

Dispensing liquor and mixing drinks

You must always dispense liquor from the original containers, unless you have applied to the general manager for an exception. You may not refill containers or add liquor to a bottle or container purchased from the Liquor Distribution Branch.

You must dispense and mix drinks at a liquor service bar, in full view of customers, and you may not pre-mix drinks: all drinks must be mixed at the request of a customer.

Price lists

You must have a list available showing the types of liquor available, the size of each drink you sell and its price. Your price list should also include any drink specials you are currently offering.

You may post the price list as a printed list or on a board, or it can be available at all tables. At a minimum, it must be available to customers on request.

Your price lists:

- Must indicate whether the price includes taxes, and what the applicable taxes are.
- Must indicate the size of each drink (you may use common names, such as "a sleeve of beer," which is 14 oz).
- Do not have to include a complete list of all available mixed drinks, provided you clearly list the price and amount of liquor (e.g., "mixed drinks contain 1 oz of liquor, and cost 'x' for bar brands, and 'y' for premium").

Where customers may consume liquor

Customers may not bring their own bottles of liquor to consume in your establishment, and you may only sell and serve liquor in the licensed area of your establishment (commonly referred to as the "red-lined area" of your floor plans).

You may not permit customers to consume liquor outside of the red-lined area, or to take liquor from the red-lined area to other parts of your establishment, except:

- Patrons may take liquor into the washroom as long as they are not walking through an unlicensed area (such as a hotel lobby), and you are properly supervising the washrooms.
- Customers may take away unfinished bottles of wine. Your staff must put a new cork in the bottle and tell customers who are driving that they must store the wine behind the rear seat, in the trunk, or in an exterior compartment – it must be out of reach of people in the car.

Exceptions to the General Rules

Liquor-primary club licence

The general rules for a liquor-primary club licence are similar to the liquor-primary licence, but some special rules do apply. For example, to be eligible for a licence, a club must:

- be legally incorporated as a society
- have been in continuous operation for at least one year
- have at least 50 members who pay $10 or more in annual membership fees
- have its own facilities, and
- do its own catering and liquor sales (these functions may not be sublet)

In addition, clubs must:

- only sell liquor to members or their guests
- keep a visitors' register
- impose a limit on the number of guests entering the club, and
- report to the branch the results of their annual board elections (this keeps the branch informed about who is responsible for the liquor licence).

A club may not solicit the general public in its advertisements. If the club ceases to exist, the liquor licence is void. A club with no members and/or no facilities is considered to no longer exist (if the club has no members, then it cannot legally sell liquor).

Off-premises sales

Liquor-primary licensees may apply for a licence endorsement that allows them to sell packaged beer, wine, cider and coolers to customers, to be consumed off the premises.

If you have an endorsement for off-premises sales, you may sell your products only until 11 p.m. each evening, and customers must immediately leave your establishment as soon as they have made their purchases.

Liquor sales and service on golf courses

Golf courses with a liquor-primary licence may apply for a licence endorsement that allows them to serve liquor to patrons on the playing area from a kiosk, take-out window, or beverage cart. (One beverage cart is permitted for every nine holes on the course; the playing area does not include practice areas such as the driving range or the putting green.)

If you have a golf course licence endorsement:

- Anyone serving liquor on the playing area of the golf course or in a licensed lounge must be employed by you, be at least 19 years of age, and have successfully completed Serving It Right (please see the section on Providing Safe and Responsible Service).
- You must ensure that customers who purchase liquor on a golf course consume it on the playing area or in the licensed areas of the club house; they may not drink liquor in, or carry liquor to, other areas of the golf course.
- You are responsible for making sure patrons do not bring their own liquor onto the course.
- You may sell liquor from a cart, kiosk or take-out window only during the hours indicated on the face of your licence.
- You must have snacks and non-alcoholic beverages available for sale, at reasonable prices, during all hours of liquor service.

- You must post rules pertaining to the availability of liquor service from beverage carts, kiosks and take-out windows before the first tee box and where patrons can see them.
- You must post additional signs at the tee box one hole before a roadway crossing to notify golfers that they are not to consume (or carry in hand) any beverages containing alcohol while crossing public roads in a golf cart, because a golf cart is regarded as a motor vehicle.

Serving or selling liquor in a stadium

To serve or sell liquor in a stadium, you must:

- have prior written permission from the organizers of the event
- serve all liquor in disposable containers, and
- set aside a reasonable amount of the stadium's tiered seating where liquor is not allowed.

Providing Safe and Responsible Service

Serving It Right: The Responsible Beverage Service Program

Serving It Right: The Responsible Beverage Service Program is a self-study course that educates licensees, managers and servers about their legal responsibilities when serving liquor, and provides effective techniques to prevent problems related to over-service.

Serving It Right consists of two separate self-study programs: one for licensees and one for servers. The licensee program must be completed by:

- all licensees and managers
- all directors, officers, and employees responsible for controlling the sale of liquor, if the licence is issued to a corporation, and
- any servers who may be left in charge of the licensed establishment from time to time.

During all hours of liquor service, there must be at least one person on duty in the establishment who has completed the licensee 'Serving It Right' program.

The server program must be completed by all employees who serve liquor, except for:

- licensees and staff of a licensed aircraft
- unpaid managers and servers in a club.

New licensees have 120 days from the date the licence is issued to successfully complete the Serving It Right program. New managers and servers have 120 days from the date of employment to fulfill the Serving It Right requirement.

Serving It Right:

The course package is available on the Internet at: www.hieac.com

More information is available from the Hospitality Industry Education Advisory Committee at:
Phone: 1-800-665-8883
E-mail: info@hieac.com

You are responsible for making sure your employees take Serving It Right. You must keep photocopies of their Serving It Right certificates, together with the date they began working in your establishment, ready for inspection by a liquor inspector or police officer at all times.

Controlling Your Establishment

Your responsibilities

You and your employees are responsible for managing and controlling the behaviour of patrons. You must ensure that other patrons, your staff and members of the community are not harmed as a result of liquor misuse or criminal activity in your establishment, and you are required to take steps to ensure your business does not disturb the surrounding community.

If your staff, patrons or members of the community have reason to be concerned that there is a threat to their safety, you must act on these concerns. If criminal or riotous conduct has occurred, or you suspect it may, then you must notify police immediately.

An individual who has been asked to leave, or who has been barred from entering your establishment, must not return for at least

Steps you can take to ensure responsible service:

- Hold regular staff meetings to discuss liquor issues.
- Let your staff know that you will support them when they cut a patron off or refuse service.
- Be familiar with "drive home" programs offered in your community.
- Have door staff to monitor the entry and exit of guests and control the numbers in your establishment (you might want to supply them with mechanical counters that will allow them to track the number of patrons entering and leaving).
- Give "last call" toward the end of the night and do not allow patrons to buy excessive amounts of liquor at that time.

24 hours. If a person does this, he or she is committing an offence and may be arrested.

Section 22 of the Act allows the general manager to suspend a liquor licence for 24 hours and order the immediate removal of patrons where there is an imminent threat to people's safety. In this situation, you are required to take all reasonable steps to ensure that customers vacate the premises immediately.

Preventing disturbances

You must take reasonable measures to make sure your business is not operating contrary to the public interest and does not disturb people near your establishment.

Examples of reasonable measures include installing adequate lighting outside your establishment and in the parking lot, supervising your parking areas, adding sound proofing, making structural changes to allow indoor line-up areas, and posting signs at the exit doors asking your patrons not to disturb your neighbours. (Please see Appendix 2 for further examples of reasonable measures.)

Important!

If a liquor inspector believes you are not taking reasonable measures to prevent disturbances - or if we receive a number of complaints from the public about disturbances that can be linked back to your establishment - you will be required to attend a compliance meeting. (Please see the section on Enforcement for more about compliance meetings.)

Minors

You may not allow minors in your establishment, unless you have applied for and received special authorization from the general manager.

It is against the law to sell, serve, or supply liquor to a minor. If you or an employee does so, your licensing privileges could be jeopardized, and you risk prosecution.

You may not employ minors to sell and serve liquor, except at stadiums.

You may employ minors as entertainers, but you must ensure that they are supervised at all times. Whenever they are not entertaining, minors must leave the licensed areas.

DJs are considered to be employees, not entertainers, so they may not be minors. Under no circumstances may a minor perform as an exotic dancer, stripper or in any other form of adult oriented or sexually explicit entertainment.

Exceptions to the prohibition of minors

Minors are allowed in licensed establishments under very limited circumstances. Specifically, they are permitted in:

- aircrafts, trains, motor vessels, stadiums, concert halls and convention centres
- the lounges at Vancouver International Airport (and any other airport lounges that have a licence endorsement) when travelling with a parent or legal guardian
- the playing areas of golf courses that are allowed to sell liquor to golfers from a take-out window, kiosk or beverage cart
- military messes, provided they are full members of the mess
- any licensed establishment while performing as professional entertainers
- ski resort lounges, if the lounge is owned by the ski-lift operator and if approved by the general manager, and minors are accompanied by a parent or legal guardian
- liquor-primary clubs for special occasions, if approved by the general manager and provided there is not another suitable area available within the club, minors are accompanied by a parent or legal guardian, and a full sit-down meal is served
- the licensed areas of liquor-primary clubs and recreation centres for banquets and award ceremonies, when these events include competitors who are minors, and if approved by the general manager.

ID requirements

You and your employees must ask anyone ordering a drink who appears to be under the age of 25 years for two pieces of identification.

The first piece of identification must:

- be issued by a government agency (e.g. a passport or driver's licence), and
- include the person's name, signature, birth date and picture.

The second piece must:

- include an imprint of the holder's name (e.g. a credit card, Care card or social insurance card), and

- include the person’s signature and/or picture.

If the person cannot produce two pieces of acceptable identification that proves they are 19 or older, you must refuse entry.

You must cooperate with a liquor inspector if the inspector asks you or your staff to determine whether a person is a minor.

You are encouraged (but not required) to retain identification that is clearly false and to turn it over to your liquor inspector. Where possible, the inspector will return the identification to the agency that issued it. (If the patron insists you return the ID, you should do so, but we encourage you take a photocopy of it first to give to your liquor inspector.)

To verify identification, ask the person for:

- A sample signature to compare to the signature on the photo identification.
- His or her zodiac sign – people with false identification often will be unable to answer quickly.
- His or her middle name and how to spell it.
- Information that is on the identification, such as the person’s address or postal code.

Setting aside an area to check ID

You must provide an area in your establishment that is well lit and protected from entertainment noise so that staff can properly review both the offered identification and the patron, and ask appropriate questions to test the ID’s authenticity.

If you operate an establishment that is particularly attractive to young people, you will be expected to maintain a sufficient standard of scrutiny to prevent access by minors. To help deter minors, we suggest you:

- record each person’s name and the ID serial number
- assign an experienced doorman to check ID
- secure any uncontrolled exits, as allowed in fire safety rules, regulations or codes, and
- use video surveillance to record an image of the person and his or her ID.

If your procedures are not effective, your local liquor inspector may direct you to install the appropriate lighting, signage, video cameras and noise barriers to ensure your staff can check identification properly. (Licensees directed to install and operate video cameras may be required to provide the film from those cameras for review by the branch.)

Overcrowding

Your liquor licence tells you the maximum number of patrons or the maximum number of persons (patrons and staff) that you may allow in your premises at one time (see the definitions of “patron capacity” and “person capacity” at the beginning of this guide).

It is important for you to know the type of capacity for which your establishment is licensed, and to make sure you stay within this limit. You must have controls at each entry point to your establishment, and you must be able to count the number of people entering and leaving.

Local building/fire authorities also establish a maximum capacity or occupant load that may differ from your liquor licence maximum capacity. (In most cases, the occupant load maximum capacity will be greater than the liquor licence maximum capacity.) You may apply to the branch to increase your liquor licence maximum capacity so that it matches the occupant load maximum capacity set by building and/or fire authorities. If fire and building officials have each calculated an occupant load for your establishment, or if an engineer or architect has, and the numbers are not the same, the lower number is the one you must use.

Drink sizes

You must encourage moderate consumption at all times and follow strict limits on the maximum size of servings.

Please note:

If an inspector visits your establishment and is uncertain as to whether it is overcrowded, the inspector will count, as accurately as possible, the number of patrons/persons in your establishment.

If the count indicates that your establishment is overcrowded, the inspector will, if possible, do a second count. If you receive a Contravention Notice (please see the section on Inspections for more on this), it will include both the first and second count.

Maximum drink sizes per person:

- Distilled liquor(spirits) . . . 3 ounces
- Draught beer . . . 0.5 litre
- Bottled beer . . . 2 standard-size bottles or 1 large-size bottle
- Wine 0.25 litre (or more with a meal)

Distilled liquor: Each drink containing distilled liquor (spirits) shall not contain more than three fluid ounces of distilled liquor, or the metric equivalent (85 ml). This applies regardless of whether the drink is served in one, or more than one, glass or container (for example, a single patron may not be served four one-ounce shooters or two two-ounce "doubles" at one time). Drinks that two or more patrons intend to share may be served in larger containers, but the maximum of three fluid ounces per person must be maintained. You may not serve whole bottles of distilled liquor.

Draught beer: You may serve draught beer in single servings of no more than .5 litre or smaller servings of multiple brands, provided the total served at one time is no more than .5 litre. Pitchers or other multiple serving containers shared by two or more patrons may contain no more than 1.5 litres of draught beer.

Bottled beer: You may serve a maximum of two standard-sized or one large-sized (.5 litre or more) bottle of beer to a single patron at one time.

Wine: You may serve wine in single servings of .25 litre (or more if the person is having a meal), or in smaller servings of multiple brands. You may serve wine by the bottle, in non-refillable containers of .75 litre to 1.5 litres, or in 1.5 litres refillable containers, provided you apply for and receive approval for the container from the Public Health Protection Branch of the Ministry of Health (the container must be one that prevents product contamination).

Drink prices

To help encourage moderate consumption:

- You must charge at least as much as the original Liquor Distribution Branch purchase price.
- You must set your liquor prices at the start of the business day, and you cannot change them until the next business day.
- Happy Hours are not permitted. If you are going to offer a special or reduced price, it must be available all day and may not be offered on a brand or type of liquor for which you know you don't have enough stock.

- You may occasionally treat your customers to a free drink; however, you cannot give away multiple drinks that could lead to over-consumption.
- You may offer an all-inclusive package that includes liquor in the price (for example, "champagne brunch," Mother's Day special, New Year's Eve special). The amount of liquor to be provided must be specified and not unlimited.
- You must not provide unlimited or unspecified quantities of liquor for a single price or use a sales strategy that is likely to promote or encourage over-consumption. For example, you may not:
 - sell drinks "two for one"
 - allow staff to circulate with trays of pre-mixed drinks, such as shooters that are not pre-ordered, and
 - serve any drinks greater than the maximum drink sizes – by the "tray load", for example.

The general manager has also expressly prohibited the practice of pouring drinks into the mouths of customers laying or leaning over a bar. Establishments that permit such activities to occur can expect enforcement action.

Over-service and intoxicated patrons

It is your responsibility to make sure patrons do not become intoxicated while in your establishment.

You must not let a person who is apparently under the influence of alcohol or drugs enter or remain in your establishment. You must refuse the person service, have the person removed and see that he or she departs safely.

You also must write down all incidents of intoxicated patrons and the action you took in an incident log, and have the information available for the liquor inspector or police officers.

Physical signs of intoxication:

- red or bloodshot eyes
- disheveled appearance
- odour of liquor
- unsteadiness on feet
- staggering
- exaggerated care in walking
- slurred speech
- fumbling with small objects such as money

Mental signs of intoxication:

- lack of alertness
- exaggerated emotions
- aggression
- irrationality

Criminal or riotous conduct

You must not allow violent, quarrelsome, riotous or disorderly conduct or unlawful activities to take place in your establishment. This includes behaviour that might cause a reasonable person to believe his or her safety is threatened.

If you know or suspect that this kind of behaviour has taken place, is currently taking place or may take place, then you must notify the police immediately.

Weapons

A weapon is defined as anything used or intended for use:

- in causing death or injury to persons whether designed for that purpose or not, or
- in threatening or intimidating any person.

You are responsible for making sure a person with a weapon does not enter or remain in your establishment.

If you know or suspect that one of your customers has a weapon, you should notify the police immediately.

Gambling

Gambling is defined as playing or gaming, for money or other stakes, on an uncertain event; it involves chance and the hope of gaining something more than the amount paid to participate.

You may not allow gambling in your establishment. You may not authorize gambling (such as by receiving a portion of the bets, collecting a fee from participants or providing tables or a room for games to take place). You are also responsible for exercising care and vigilance so gambling does not take place without your knowledge.

Wheels of Fortune and other games of chance are not permitted. Gambling pools, including those associated with major sporting events are prohibited under the Criminal Code of Canada.

Employee conduct

Liquor consumption

You and your employees may not consume liquor in your establishment during working hours. This includes breaks, meal periods and between shifts on the same day.

After work, you and your employees may consume liquor, provided:

- You do not offer liquor to employees at a reduced price, or in lieu of wages or as a bonus.
- Your employees are of legal drinking age.
- You are serving and consuming the liquor during the hours of sale indicated on the face of your licence.

Entertainers may not consume liquor during a performance or while on stage in view of patrons, and you – as the licensee – must not be treated differently than a regular patron.

Staff parties

You may hold a staff party in your licensed establishment, provided you are able to comply with the Regulations and the terms and conditions of your licence for the duration of the party. Staff, for example, may not consume liquor while on duty. If you cannot meet these conditions, you must apply for a Special Occasion Licence and a temporary suspension of your liquor-primary licence.

Dress

Servers must wear clothes and must not combine the act of serving with stripping or exotic dancing. Servers must not wear brand-identified clothing where the size of the advertising is so prominent that it would result in your establishment promoting a specific brand of liquor.

Designated smoking rooms

All rules regarding liquor service apply in designated smoking rooms. All activities in the smoking room must be law abiding, and you must maintain the same control of activities in smoking rooms as you maintain throughout other parts of your establishment.

Steps you can take to maintain control of activities in smoking rooms:

- Maintain a line of sight from the bar to all areas of the smoking room
- Ensure all areas of the smoking room are visible from the exterior and not restricted by planters, etc.
- Ensure the room is adequately lit.

Advertising Your Business

What You May Advertise

You may advertise:

- the name and location of your establishment
- your liquor licence category
- your hours of sale
- the entertainment or food that you feature.

You may use the words “licensed premises” in your advertising, and – if your licence permits it – you may advertise off-premises sales of beer, wine, cider and coolers. Brew pubs may state that beer is brewed on site.

Your ads cannot:

- encourage liquor consumption or irresponsible drinking
- mention or imply the availability of liquor
- specifically name a kind or brand of liquor, a liquor manufacturer, or a liquor price
- use pictures of minors, or personalities, images or activities that may appeal to minors
- show people drinking or anyone who is either intoxicated or behaving irresponsibly or illegally, or
- show people with liquor, but without food (they must always have food in front of them).

In addition, you and your staff may not wear brand-identified clothing where the advertising is so predominant that it promotes a particular brand of liquor.

Where You May Advertise

You may advertise your establishment in newspapers, magazines and periodicals, or on television, radio or the Internet. You can put up signs, and print pamphlets or brochures, including graphics and pictures of your establishment and licensed areas.

Signs

Any signs, including signs bearing the name of your establishment, are considered to be advertisements and must comply with the advertising terms and conditions outlined in this guide.

Your outside signs may include the outline of a liquor glass but may not use words such as “fine wine,” “beer,” or “spirits,” or any other words suggesting that liquor is available, except for brew pubs, which may have signs indicating that beer is brewed on site.

Your signs may display:

- The name of your establishment.
- Your liquor licence category.
- The fact that you sell packaged beer, wine, cider and coolers (if your licence permits off-premises sales)

Entertainment

What you may offer

Live or recorded music, radio, television, and dancing are permitted in your liquor-primary establishment, unless otherwise restricted by the general manager. This includes hosting a live radio or television broadcast from within your establishment, as long as the purpose of the broadcast is not the promotion of liquor.

You may also:

- Provide games of skill, including darts, pool, shuffleboard, video games and foosball, and games of chance (including card games), but for amusement only – no payoffs or prizes of any kind are permitted for games of chance.
 - Hold tournaments and contests, provided:
 - you do not charge an entry fee for contests, everyone who enters the establishment is entitled to enter the contest, and patrons may enter the contest without purchasing a drink.
 - you donate all fees collected for a tournament (if you charge a fee) to a recognized charity
 - you do not offer or give liquor as a prize
 - you do not require the winners of tournaments or contests to be present to collect prizes or awards, and
 - your event does not involve the consumption of liquor, or a contact sport between two or more persons.
- Additional Rules for Tournaments and Contests:

 - Liquor manufacturers and their representatives may donate or award trophies, but may not sponsor a tournament or contest.
 - Prizes may not take the form of a lottery or draw where a participant may be expected to make a purchase to win.
 - While you are permitted to hold contests and tournaments involving wet T-shirts, wet jockey shorts, bare-as-you-dare, or similar themes or activities, you may not advertise them; they must conform to community standards; and they may not involve physical contact between patrons.
- Show movies, provided the primary focus of your establishment does not shift to that of a movie theatre, and that all movies are shown in accordance with the Motion Picture Act and its Regulations. You may not show movies that are not rated, restricted or adult rated.
 - Stage live prize-fighting, kick-boxing and similar contact sports events on your premises, provided you apply to the general manager for approval in advance, do not involve patrons, and take steps to protect both patrons and staff.
 - Offer adult-oriented presentations, provided you post a sign to that effect at your entrance and identify when a cover charge is in effect (see additional rules for exotic dancers and strippers below).
 - Sell “Break Open,” “Sports Action,” “Chaser,” and “Club Keno” tickets distributed by the B.C. Lottery Corporation, unless otherwise restricted by the general manager.
 - Host casino nights, provided you apply for and receive approval from the Ministry of Public Safety and Solicitor General’s Gaming Policy and Enforcement Branch to offer casino events, and:
 - you offer the casino events in an unlicensed area, separate from the licensed area of your establishment (the only exception is a licensed banquet hall or other large room that can be divided into a separate casino and liquor service/consumption area)
 - the licensed area is sufficiently enclosed to prevent patrons from taking liquor out of the licensed area and into the casino area, and
 - you do not serve liquor (and ensure patrons do not consume liquor) in the area set aside for casino activities.
 - Hold draws to raise money for charitable purposes, provided:
 - they are hosted by a charitable organization licensed by the Ministry of Public Safety and Solicitor General’s Gaming Policy and Enforcement Branch
 - the charitable organization’s gaming licence is posted in a visible location within your establishment

- draws are limited to meat draws, 50/50 tickets, raffles, or other draws specified by the general manager
- prizes do not include liquor or tokens redeemable for liquor
- winners are not required to be present to collect prizes, and
- proceeds and prizes are disbursed according to Gaming Policy and Enforcement Branch rules.
- Offer pari-mutuel (off-track) betting, if approved by Teletheatre B.C. and provided:
 - the betting area, including the area in which patrons line up to place their bets, is located outside the licensed area of your establishment
 - where the betting area shares a common wall with your licensed area, the wall, doors and other openings are designed and constructed according to approved specifications
 - any openings directly between the betting area and your licensed area are clearly marked with signs indicating that liquor may not be taken into the betting area, and
 - where the betting area is directly accessible from your licensed area, you provide adequate staff during the hours it is in operation to ensure that patrons do not enter or remain in the betting area with liquor.

Performances by Strippers or Exotic Dancers

A stripper is an entertainer who strips off clothing during a performance; an exotic dancer is a performer who does not necessarily strip clothing during a performance. (Belly dancers are not considered strippers or exotic dancers.)

If you are offering performances by exotic dancers/strippers:

- The entertainers must be at least nineteen years of age and must wear appropriate clothing while walking through the audience, both before and after performances. This clothing must not be part of their stage costume.
- Performances must be confined to the stage or other approved areas (these areas will be noted on your liquor licence). No performing is allowed in the audience area.
- Animals may not form part of a performance, and are not permitted as entertainment except as approved by the general manager.
- The exotic dancers/strippers may not act as servers or hold any other employment position in your establishment while they are also working for you as entertainers.

Exotic dancers/strippers may not:

- engage in live, realistic or simulated sex acts, or in any acts involving coercion or violence, either simulated or real
- insert any object into, or extract any object from, the vagina or anus
- urinate or defecate while performing
- touch, share food and beverages, or pass objects to members of the audience
- touch or share food and beverages with other performers
- consume liquor immediately prior to a performance, during a performance or between performances
- dance/perform on table tops or other areas outside the approved areas

Relations with Liquor Manufacturers, Agents and Sales Representatives

Tied Houses

A licensed establishments may not operate as a "tied house." A tied house is an establishment that has an association – financial or otherwise – with a liquor manufacturer or its agent, that is likely to lead to its products being favoured. That means you must not agree to sell only one manufacturer's products in your establishment, or to promote a particular product because of your association with a particular liquor manufacturer or agent. (You are similarly prohibited from having an association, financial or otherwise, with a UBrew/UVin.)

Please Note:

This restriction does not apply to a brew pub operating in combination with, and on the same site as, a brewery. Brew pubs may promote products in the pub that are manufactured at the brewery.

Inducements

The Act prohibits you from asking for or receiving benefits for selling a particular liquor product. You may not, for example, demand that a manufacturer or its representatives (i.e., licensed agents and sales representatives) supply additional product at either no cost or at a reduced cost, in return for purchasing their product.

You may accept information and ideas to help you improve your business, but this information must come directly from the manufacturer or representative, and not through an outside consultant. You may not accept advice about borrowing money or locating financing.

You are also prohibited from accepting any items, products or services from a manufacturer or representative, such as money, fixtures, furnishings, products, repair costs, draught lines or rental of unoccupied rooms. You may, however, accept promotional items of nominal value such as coasters, tent cards, signs and posters.

Sponsorships

Manufacturers may sponsor events and activities at:

- sports stadiums
 - recreational centres (including ski hills, racquet clubs and bowling alleys)
 - concert halls
 - university or cultural centres
- provided the events or activities are time-limited and not part of an on-going relationship with the licensed establishment.

It is up to the manufacturer to notify the branch before a sponsored event or activity takes place. Both the establishment and the manufacturer may advertise the sponsored event or activity.

Product Samples

As a way of introducing their products, agents or sales representatives may give you product samples, but the amount you receive must not be more than one standard-size bottle per product in any one year.

You must keep a record of all samples received, including the date, name of the agent or sales representative, name of the product and volume of the product.

Size limits for product samples:

- Distilled spirits: The standard size per product (750 ml) listed by the Liquor Distribution Branch.
- Wine: The standard size per product (generally 750ml) listed by the Liquor Distribution Branch.
- Beer, cider, coolers: One dozen 341 ml bottles or one dozen 355 ml cans.

You or your staff only, in a private place outside the licensed area, may consume this product. It is not intended for your patrons and must not be served to them.

Visits by Agents and Sales Representatives

Conduct

There are strict limits on how agents and sales representatives may act when they visit your establishment.

Mass treating or “buying drinks for the house” is not permitted, and agents and representatives may not leave money for this purpose. They may however, join customers at a table and buy a drink for everyone at that table. These drinks must be purchased from your establishment.

Manufacturer drink purchases

When an agent or representative visits your establishment and wants to purchase drinks for your patrons, you must ensure that:

- The liquor serving provided to each customer at one time is not greater than the normal serving for your establishment.
- Each order is paid for at the time it is served (the order may be put on a “tab” provided the account is settled before the agent leaves the establishment), and that drink prices are the same as you would charge regular patrons.
- The agent or sales representative does not treat more than one table at a time, except where it involves a bona fide sporting team.
- You issue a countersigned receipt for the dollar value of purchased product to the agent or sales representative (both parties should retain a copy).
- The agent or sales representative does not bring liquor products into your licensed establishment for the purpose of sampling.

Theme Nights

A theme night is an opportunity for you to work in collaboration with a liquor manufacturer to promote the sale of a particular brand of liquor, and may include festive activities, such as games or prizes. A maximum of eight theme nights may be held during any one 90-day period, on no more than four consecutive days.

If you and a liquor manufacturer agree to put on a theme night:

- The liquor manufacturer must notify the Liquor Control and Licensing Branch, in writing, before the event takes place (you should double-check this), and must also ensure the event has an educational component, such as messages on the consequences of drinking and driving.
- You may not advertise the theme night outside your establishment.
- You may put on an afternoon event, provided it ends by 4 p.m.; an evening theme night may start only after 6:30 p.m.
- If samples are provided as part of the theme night:
 - an agent or sales representative must be present in your establishment during at least part of the event
 - the offer or invitation to taste must be made by the agent or sales representative, not by you or your staff
 - if the samples are served using your establishment’s usual facilities, then it is your staff who must dispense the product; if a special service area is set up specifically for the event, then personnel provided by the agent or sales representative must do the dispensing
 - you must serve the samples in disposable containers
 - neither you, nor the agent or sales representative, may serve samples by the tray load
 - the agent or sales representative must purchase all sample products from you, and you must issue a countersigned receipt.
- If contests or prizes are provided as part of the theme night:
 - an agent or sales representative must be present in your establishment to award prizes
 - prizes may be worth no more than $25 each
 - prizes may be brand – or corporately identified, unless otherwise directed by the general manager, and

Maximum sample quantities you may serve per patron:

	SINGLE PRODUCT	MULTIPLE PRODUCT
Wines	30 ml.	45 ml.
Beer/cider/coolers	30 ml.	45 ml.
Spirits	10 ml.	20 ml.

- prizes may not be liquor or drinks containing liquor.
- You may not charge the agent or sales representative a fee for conducting the theme night event, and any tips or gratuities paid by the agent or sales representative must not exceed 15 per cent.
- The agent or sales representative may not subsidize the price of the product in any way, such as by paying the difference between the normal selling price of the product and its ‘special’ price during the theme night, but you may offer special prices on liquor products that he or she represents. Prices must be in effect all day.
- You must have food available for your patrons at all times during the theme night.
- You and your staff may wear brand – or corporately identified items during the event.

Manufacturer Promotional Material

It is common for manufacturers or their representatives to offer promotional material to licensed establishments.

You may not place bottles of liquor on tables as a promotional or point of sale device. You may, however, display small signs, tent cards, posters, coasters or other brand or corporately identified items within your establishment, provided:

- your menu already lists the brand of liquor identified in the promotional materials, and
- it does not appear that you are promoting a particular liquor product or the products of a particular manufacturer (brand-identified or corporately identified items of a particular liquor manufacturer must not predominate).

In addition:

- You may use brand-identified glassware, provided you purchase it at fair market value and you retain proof of purchase for two years for audit purposes.
- You may use more expensive brand or corporately identified items, such as table umbrellas, mirrors or ceramic draught beer towers, provided the liquor supplier retains ownership of the items.
- With the exception of umbrellas, you must position brand or corporately identified signs or items so they can be seen only by patrons within your establishment.

Inspections

Why We Inspect Licensed Establishments

Branch liquor inspectors conduct regular, unannounced inspections of licensed establishments to make sure licensees are following the Act and Regulations and their licence terms and conditions, and to make sure there are timely consequences when they don't.

In addition, a liquor inspector may conduct an inspection:

- in response to a complaint from a member of the public, another licensee, a local government/First Nation, police or any other agency, or
- to follow-up on a Licensed Premises Check (LPC) issued by a police officer.

Entry of Liquor Inspectors and Police Officers

You must give liquor inspectors and police officers immediate access to all areas of your establishment on request. It is a serious contravention to refuse or delay providing access to an inspector or police officer.

Producing Documents and Records

You must allow the general manager (or a designated person such as a liquor inspector) to inspect documents and records associated with your establishment, including:

- liquor sales, purchase and disposal records
- food sales records
- sales records, invoices and purchase receipts
- agreements and contracts with liquor manufacturers and agents or representatives
- lease and management contracts related to your licensed establishment
- employee records
- records of the quantity and price of liquor servings

- records of any incidents or events that occurred on or near the licensed premises, and
- any court orders or judgements against you.

Liquor Seizures and Sampling

Both liquor inspectors and the police have the authority to seize liquor they believe might be illicit from any licensed establishment. They will either destroy the liquor immediately or hold it in storage for 30 days.

Liquor inspectors may also take reasonable samples of liquor found in a licensed establishment or liquor storage area to determine whether the liquor is illegal, unauthorized, adulterated or contaminated. An inspector does not need evidence that the Act or Regulations have been breached to take a sample.

Enforcement

Contravention Notice

If, after an inspection (or after the police have issued a Licensed Premises Check), a liquor inspector believes you are in some way contravening the Act, its Regulations or your licence terms and conditions, the inspector must issue a Contravention Notice setting out the alleged contravention(s), and leave a copy of the notice with you.

The inspector will then review the notice in conjunction with the file the branch keeps on your establishment. Based on that review, the inspector will decide whether or not to recommend that the general manager take enforcement action against you.

If the inspector recommends enforcement action, you will receive a Notice of Enforcement Action. (Please see section on Enforcement for more information.)

If the inspector does not recommend enforcement action, the inspector will either: require you to attend a Compliance Meeting, or simply keep the Contravention Notice as part of your establishment's file.

Compliance Meeting

A compliance meeting is a meeting between you and the inspector – and possibly others, such as members of your staff, police, and fire/building officials – to:

- promote voluntary compliance with the liquor licensing rules and regulations through education, and
- assist you and your staff in anticipating, and creating solutions for, potential problems.

Please note:

The branch operates on the basis that you are responsible for understanding and complying with the requirements of the Act, its Regulations and terms and conditions of your licence.

Compliance meetings are not a required step before the branch takes enforcement action. The general manager may decide on enforcement action whether or not you have attended a compliance meeting in the past.

The liquor inspector will document the matters discussed during the meeting on a Compliance Meeting Form. For example, if you agree to implement procedures to deal with a potential compliance problem, the inspector will note the details of the agreement, such as what procedures you intend to put in place and when they will come into effect. Once both you and the inspector have signed the form, you will receive one copy and the inspector will place the other in your establishment's file.

You may also request a compliance meeting.

Notice of Enforcement Action

If an inspector recommends enforcement action against you, the branch will notify you by letter, usually within 45 days of the inspector's decision.

This letter is called the Notice of Enforcement Action and it sets out basic information about the current situation and your establishment's past history, along with the recommended enforcement action. The Notice of Enforcement Action also describes the enforcement hearing process and how you may choose to waive the enforcement hearing (see below).

Any enforcement action taken by the branch will form part of your record. It is important that you clearly understand any action that is taken against you. If any aspects of a letter or a decision are unclear, ask the branch for clarification.

Possible Enforcement Action

Section 20(2) of the Act sets out the enforcement action that the general manager has the authority to take against you for failing to comply with the Act, Regulations and/or the terms and conditions of your licence.

The type of enforcement action and the severity of the enforcement action will depend on a number of factors, including the nature of the contravention, the circumstances of the contravention, your establishment's compliance history and your compliance history as a licensee.

The general manager has the authority to suspend your licence and/or impose a monetary penalty on you for a failing to comply with the Act, Regulations and/or the terms and conditions of your licence. (See Appendix 1 for the complete Penalty Schedule.)

In most situations, when the general manager imposes a suspension or monetary penalty, the general manager will stay within the range set out in the Penalty Schedule. However, the general manager has the authority to impose a higher penalty and will do so when it is in the public interest.

Enforcement Hearing

A recommendation to the general manager to take enforcement action is usually reviewed at an enforcement hearing, which is usually held within 60 days of the Notice of Enforcement Action.

At an enforcement hearing, an adjudicator, who is a delegate of the general manager, will review the branch's evidence along with any you wish to offer, and will hear statements both from the branch advocate (a person representing the branch) and from you.

The general manager may:

- Add a term and condition to your licence, or rescind or amend an existing term and condition.
- Require you to pay a monetary penalty in accordance with the penalty schedule.
- Suspend your licence in accordance with the penalty schedule.
- Cancel all or part of your licence.
- Order you to transfer your licence, within a certain period, to a person who is at arm's length from you.

The adjudicator will then decide:

- whether the contravention occurred
- whether enforcement action will be taken, and
- the type and severity of enforcement action.

The adjudicator may accept the penalty recommended in the Notice of Enforcement Action, may impose a higher penalty, may impose a lesser penalty or may impose no penalty.

Waiving the Enforcement Hearing

You may choose to waive the enforcement hearing and accept the enforcement action proposed in the Notice of Enforcement Action by signing a waiver notice prepared by branch staff.

If you sign the waiver notice, you:

- agree that the contravention occurred
- accept the enforcement action proposed in the Notice of Enforcement Action
- waive the opportunity to appear at an enforcement hearing, and
- agree that the contravention and enforcement action will form part of your record.

In most situations, you must sign the waiver notice within 14 days of the Notice of Enforcement Action.

Serving Liquor While Under Suspension

If the enforcement process results in your licence being suspended, your establishment must close. Failure to abide by your suspension is a serious contravention that could lead to an extended licence suspension, cancellation or transfer of your liquor licence.

- Post staff by exits to remind customers to be considerate of nearby residents, and keep noise to a minimum
- Apply to the branch for permission to extend the time period within which customers must vacate the premises at closing time (It is normally half-an-hour but you can apply to extend that time up to one hour to reduce the size of departing groups.)

Noise from music and other forms of entertainment that is ongoing and can be heard by nearby residents from within their homes

APPENDIX 3

Making Changes to Your Licence

Changes that Require Approval from the General Manager

Permanent change

You must apply for a permanent change if you want to:

- change the name of your business
- change your hours of sale
- change anyone or any company – owners, partners, shareholders, corporations or holding companies
- transfer shares either externally to new shareholders, or internally between current shareholders, if you are a private corporation
- add a receiver or executor
- hold live contact sports events

Structural change

You must apply for a structural change if you want to:

- change the structure to alter occupant load
- change your floor plans
- change (or add to) the structure of your building
- increase your capacity to the occupant load of the building as determined by fire/building officials
- add an outdoor patio
- change (or add) a designated smoking room
- if you own a golf course and would like to serve liquor from a cart or kiosk

Transfer of location

You must apply for a transfer of location if you want to:

- re-locate your business

Third-party or resident manager change

You must apply for a third-party operator or resident manager change if you want to:

- change (or add) a third-party lessee or management firm operating within your licensed establishment
- change your resident manager, if you are a non-resident private corporation.

Temporary change

You must apply for a temporary change if you want to:

- make a change or changes for a relatively short period – usually for a special event, such as an unlicensed event for minors, or to allow time for renovations or structural alterations. These changes may include temporarily extending your normal hours of sale, your usual capacity, and/or the area that is covered by your liquor licence, or temporarily moving your business to another location entirely.

Application Forms, Documentation and Other Required Approvals

The application form, documentation and approvals you will need depend on the type of change you are asking for. For example:

- To extend your hours of sale, you will need an Application for Permanent Change to a Liquor Licence, and a resolution from your local government of First Nation.
- To alter the structure or layout of your building, you will need an Application for a Structural Change, and to supply large scale floor plans.
- To change or add a third-party lessee or management firm, you will need an Application for a Third-Party Operator or Resident Manager, and to supply a range of company documents and a completed criminal record search form for each new person.
- To transfer shares, you will need an application for a Permanent Change to a Liquor Licence, and any shareholder who holds a ten per cent or larger interest in the business will need to agree to a criminal record check.

Application Forms:

Forms are available on-line:

or, are available from the Liquor Control and Licencing Branch:

E-mail: lclb.lclb@gems4.gov.bc.ca

The individual application forms explain the documentation and/or approvals required for each type of change. The Fee Schedule for Licence Changes lists the fee charged for each type of change.

Criminal record checks

Some changes will require that you consent to a criminal record check. To do so, you must complete both the Personal History Summary and Consent to Criminal Record Search form and the RCMP's Consent for Disclosure of Criminal Record Information.

Applicants who have applied for a liquor licence and consented to a criminal record search within the previous 12 months are exempt, unless requested to consent to another search by the general manager.

Applicants living outside of British Columbia, refugees and landed immigrants who have been in Canada for less than five years must also provide a statutory declaration – signed by a lawyer, Notary Public, or Commissioner for Taking Affidavits – stating either that they have not been convicted of a crime, or providing details of any past convictions or sentences. In addition, landed immigrants who have been in Canada less than five years must attach a copy of their Employment and Immigration Canada immigrant identification form (IMM1000).

Once we have the required documents, we will send them on to the Criminal Records Review Agency. The agency will check the person's name and birth date and other information against criminal records across Canada, and report back to us with the final results:

- If the search reveals no criminal record, we will continue to process your change request.
- If the search reveals a possible relevant criminal record, we will ask the applicant to go to the local police or RCMP station to provide fingerprints. (The police may charge a fee for this service.) Specially trained analysts will compare these fingerprints to the prints associated with the criminal record.

Even if it turns out that an applicant does have a criminal record, however, it does not mean we will automatically turn down the application. We will look carefully at the circumstances of the individual case – the severity of the crime and when it was committed, for example, and what the applicant has done to change his or her behaviour since then – and how the type of crime committed relates to the responsibilities that go with holding a liquor licence.
