Home Owner Grant

Homeowners with a disability, or homeowners living with a relative or spouse with a disability may be eligible for the additional home owner grant of up to $845. If you are a Canadian citizen or permanent resident and ordinarily reside in British Columbia, and you claim the grant for your principal residence, you may qualify for the additional home owner grant. You must meet one of the following criteria to qualify.

- You are incurring, or have incurred, costs for structural modifications to your home or you are paying for extensive physical assistance in the home. The costs for modifications to your home must exceed $2,000, or the extensive physical assistance must be regular, ongoing and exceed $150 per month.
- You purchased your home with structural modifications completed by a previous owner, where the modifications meet the disability needs of the person with a disability and have a value exceeding $2,000.
- You made changes to the design specifications of your newly constructed principal residence that meet the disability needs of the person with a disability, and the value of the changes to the structural features of the home exceed $2,000.
- You receive disability assistance, hardship assistance or a supplement under the BC Employment and Assistance for Persons with Disabilities Act. To qualify for the grant, the homeowner or eligible occupant (which includes an eligible occupant of an eligible apartment, housing unit, land cooperative or multi-dwelling leased parcel) must be the one receiving the assistance.

The additional grant is eliminated on homes assessed at $1,219,000 or more.

Property Tax Deferment

Persons with a disability may be eligible for the Property Tax Deferment Program. This low interest loan program allows qualifying registered property owners to defer paying their yearly property taxes.

If you own your home and are a disabled person as defined by regulation*, you can apply if you:

- are a Canadian citizen or permanent resident,
- have lived in British Columbia for at least one year prior to applying,
- are living in your home, and
- have and maintain a minimum equity (after deducting the upper limit of all outstanding mortgages, lines of credit and other charges) in your home of 25% of the current assessed value determined by BC Assessment.
