FULL-DAY KINDERGARTEN

Full-day kindergarten will begin in schools throughout British Columbia in September 2010. BC will join other provinces such as New Brunswick, Nova Scotia and Quebec who already offer full-day kindergarten, as well as Ontario which plans to phase-in the program in the fall. The implementation of this new program raises issues such as: the availability of qualified staff; the addition of extra funding and resources; the creation of more classroom spaces for students; and the advantages it will provide to both children and parents. This list includes reports, publications, news stories and other resources related to full-day kindergarten.
