Part 2 — Application for Designation

Application fee

3 The application fee to be submitted with an application under section 7 (1) of the Act is $2 000.

Cost of investigation

4 The minister may not charge to a health profession association the first $7 500 of costs incurred by the minister in the conduct of the investigation of the health profession association's application under section 7 (1) of the Act.

Fees and costs prorated

5 If the minister conducts one investigation for the designation of a health profession in respect of more than one application under section 7 (1) of the Act, the fee payable under section 3 and the costs in excess of the amount under section 4 may be prorated by the minister between or among the health profession associations that have applied.

Part 3 — Public Interest Criteria

Criteria for designation of health professions

6 (1) For the purposes of section 10 (1) of the Act, the minister must consider the extent to which the practice of a health profession may involve a risk of physical, mental or emotional harm to the health, safety or well-being of the public, having regard to the following:
   (a) the services performed by practitioners of the health profession;
(b) the technology, including instruments and materials, used by practitioners of the health profession;
(c) the invasiveness of the procedure or mode of treatment used by practitioners of the health profession;
(d) the degree to which the health profession is practised
   (i) under the supervision of another person who is qualified to practise as a member of a different health profession, or
   (ii) in a currently regulated environment.

(2) The minister may also consider the following criteria:
(a) the extent to which the health profession has demonstrated that there is a public interest in ensuring the availability of regulated services provided by the health profession;
(b) the extent to which the services of the health profession provide a recognized and demonstrated benefit to the health, safety or well-being of the public;
(c) the extent to which there exists a body of knowledge that forms the basis of the standards of practice of the health profession;
(d) whether practitioners of the health profession are awarded a certificate or degree from a recognized post-secondary educational institution;
(e) whether it is important that continuing competence of a practitioner of the health profession be monitored;
(f) the extent to which there exists within the health profession recognized leadership which has expressed a commitment to regulating the profession in the public interest;
(g) the likelihood that a college established under the Act would be capable of carrying out the duties imposed by the Act, having regard to factors that may affect the viable operation of the college;
(h) whether designation of the health profession is likely to limit availability of services contrary to the public interest.
Part 4 — College Amalgamations

Amalgamation of nursing colleges

7 (1) The following colleges are amalgamated into one college:
   (a) the College of Licensed Practical Nurses of British Columbia;
   (b) the College of Registered Nurses of British Columbia;
   (c) the College of Registered Psychiatric Nurses of British Columbia.

   (2) The amalgamation date for the purpose of subsection (1) is September 4, 2018.
