THE 305-DAY RECORD.

It is a recognized fact that in the economical production of milk it is not practicable from the average dairyman's standpoint to allow cows 365 days to a milking period. It has therefore been decided that from January 1st, 1926, the maximum period of time that will be recorded of a cow's milking period is 305 days. This will make it possible for a cow to have a dry period of two months and still freshen within 400 days of her previous date of calving. In this event her production record will be entitled to the designation "Calved Within Period" (C.W.P.). Heifers calving under three years of age will be allowed 365 days to a milking period and fifteen months in which to freshen again in order to obtain the above designation.

NOTE.—Dairy Circulars Nos. 7, 8, and 10, giving particulars of 1,064 certified records completed previous to January 1st, 1925, may be obtained by writing the Dairy Branch, Department of Agriculture, Victoria, B.C.
