Introduction

This Guide

This guide outlines the requirements of the Liquor Control and Licensing Act and Regulations for serving and consuming liquor in liquor primary establishments (such as bars, pubs, night clubs, recreation centres and stadiums) and in liquor primary clubs (private clubs). It also imposes further terms and conditions, in addition to those found in the Liquor and Licensing act and Regulations.*

Like the requirements contained in the Act and Regulations, these additional terms and conditions – and any further terms and conditions that might be printed on the face of your licence, on a catering authorization or contained in letters issued to you by the general manager of the Liquor Control and Licensing Branch – must be followed at all times.

As a licensee, it is your responsibility to operate your business so that it complies with the law and with the terms and conditions of your licence.

Important!

Please take time to read this guide carefully and make sure your managers and staff are familiar with the information presented here and with any additional terms and conditions printed on the face of your licence and/or in letters issued by the Liquor Control and Licensing Branch or the Liquor Distribution Branch.

Section 12 of the Liquor Control and Licensing Act provides the general manager with the authority to impose, in the public interest, terms and conditions on licences.

Section 88 provides authority for the general manager to place terms and conditions on a catering endorsement.

Section 91 provides authority for the general manager to impose terms and conditions on catering authorizations.

Definitions Used in this Guide

"The Act" means the Liquor Control and Licensing Act, the provincial legislation that guides the licensing of establishments that manufacture or sell liquor in BC.

"Agent" means a liquor manufacturer representing itself as an agent, a person hired by a liquor manufacturer to represent them as an agent or a person who represents a manufacturer of liquor outside of British Columbia as their agent.

An agent may advertise and promote liquor to licensees, liquor stores and the public, but can only sell liquor from any manufacturer they represent to the Liquor Distribution Branch in a manner authorized by the General Manager of the Liquor Distribution Branch. An agent cannot sell liquor directly to the public. An agent cannot sell liquor directly to licensees, unless authorized to do so by the General Manager of the Liquor Distribution Branch.

Please Note:

Wherever definitions, words or expressions used in the guide differ from the wording of the Liquor Control and Licensing Act and Regulations and the LDB Act, the legislation will prevail

"Catered Event" refers to any event that is not held in a residence, such as a community hall, park, or corporate boardroom, where liquor is sold by a licensed caterer.

"Caterer" refers to a licensee with a catering licence or a catering endorsement.

"Catering Authorization" refers to the approval granted by a liquor inspector for a catered event.

“Catering Endorsement” is an endorsement that may be added to a food primary or liquor primary licence to allow the licensee to sell liquor at Residential and Catered Events.

“Event” includes catered and residential events.

“Host” refers to the client that hired you (if you have a catering endorsement) to cater food and liquor at an event.

“Branch” means the Liquor Control and Licensing Branch, the government agency that administers the Act.

“Food primary” refers to a licensed establishment where the service of food, as opposed to liquor, is the primary focus of the business.

“General manager” means the general manager of the Liquor Control and Licensing Branch.

“Licensee” refers to any individual, individuals or corporate body that holds a British Columbia liquor licence. The term covers both the licensee of record and any person acting in the place of the licensee, such as a manager or person in charge of an establishment in the licensee’s absence.

“Liquor primary” refers to a licensed establishment where the service of liquor, as opposed to food, is the primary focus of the business.

“Liquor primary club” refers to a private club (e.g., legion) that is licensed to serve liquor to members and their guests.

“Manufacturer” means a manufacturer of liquor products (i.e., beer, wine, spirits, cider and coolers) or the corporate official of a liquor manufacturer.

“Marketing Representative” means a person hired by a licensed agent to promote their products. These marketing representatives do not need to be registered with the Liquor Control and Licensing Branch. Agents must provide their marketing representatives with identification establishing them as representatives and must also ensure that they comply with provincial liquor laws.

“Minor” refers to an individual who is under 19 years of age - 19 is the legal drinking age in British Columbia.

“Occupant load” means the number of persons, including staff, who may be in a licensed premises at one time. The number is calculated by local fire and building officials or other designated professionals, such as architects and engineers. It must be the lesser of the maximum number of people allowed under provincial regulations or municipal bylaws.

“Patron capacity” means the maximum number of persons, not counting staff, who may be in a licensed premises at one time.

“Person capacity” means the maximum number of persons, including staff, who may be in a licensed premises at one time.

“Red-lined area” refers to the area within a licensed establishment where you may sell, serve and consume liquor.

“Residence” refers to a private dwelling (where someone lives), and the land surrounding it.

“Residential Event” refers to an invitation only event held at a residence where liquor is sold by a licensed caterer, such as a dinner party or wedding.

“Terms and conditions of licence” are requirements of licensees that are set by legislation, regulation or branch policy. All licence terms and conditions must be followed. Not following them may result in enforcement action.

Updates

Licence terms and conditions change from time to time. We will update this guide periodically. In addition, an up-to-date copy is always available on the provincial government website at:

Background: Who is Responsible for What

The Liquor Control and Licensing Branch

The Liquor Control and Licensing Branch is responsible for regulating and monitoring the sale of liquor in licensed establishments in British Columbia, and for protecting the public from the harm that may be caused by making and selling liquor or products that contain alcohol.

The branch issues and supervises liquor licences, and monitors the activities of all liquor licensees in British Columbia to make sure they are following the rules laid out in the Liquor Control and Licensing Act, its Regulations, and their licence terms and conditions.

To make sure the public has full access to information about liquor licensees in this province, we post summaries of all cases where the branch has recommended enforcement action on our branch web site. For those cases that go to an enforcement hearing, we post the complete text of the decision. (Names of individuals are removed to comply with the requirements of the Freedom of Information and Protection of Privacy Act.)

Your Role as a Licensee

As a licensee (someone who holds a liquor licence), you must let the branch know about any changes you make to your business or to the buildings you operate.

You are legally responsible for understanding how the Act, its Regulations, and the specific terms and conditions of your licence affect the operation of your establishment, and for complying with the Act, its Regulations, and the terms and conditions of your licence and all catering authorizations (if you have a catering endorsement).

You are also responsible for making sure your employees follow B.C.'s liquor laws and the terms and conditions of your licence, even when you are not on site.

You and your staff must fully cooperate with liquor inspectors and police, and ensure the actions of you and your staff do not put liquor inspectors, minor agents contracted to the branch, or police at risk or prevent them from carrying out their duties.

Drawing the attention of patrons to the fact that liquor inspectors, minor agents contracted to the branch, and/or police are present in your establishment may put the safety of the inspectors, minor agents contracted to the branch, and police at risk. Accordingly, your actions must not cause the attention or focus of patrons to shift towards inspectors, minor agents contracted to the branch, or police at any time; including at the time of entry, during an inspection, or when exiting your establishment. Actions such as announcing the arrival of inspectors, raising or flashing lights, turning down music, playing particular soundtracks (e.g. "Bad Boys"), using spotlights, or any other similar actions are not permitted. You may not save or distribute photographs of inspectors or minor agents contracted to the branch in any manner (e.g. on a staff bulletin board or the internet).

If you do not carry out your legal responsibilities, you could face serious penalties, including the suspension or loss of your licence.

The Role of the Liquor Inspector

Liquor Control and Licensing Branch liquor inspectors are located in regional offices across the province. They will regularly visit your licensed establishment – often arriving unannounced – to:

- explain the terms and conditions of your licence
- inspect the physical layout of your establishment
- inspect your legal, financial and business records
- observe and record your business practices, identifying gaps or weaknesses that are likely to lead to non-compliance (to you not following the Act, its Regulations and the terms and conditions of your licence), and
- identify any contraventions occurring in your establishment or at a catered event.

If a liquor inspector finds you are contravening (not following) the Act, its Regulations or the terms and conditions of your licence or a catering authorization, the inspector may issue a Contravention Notice and may recommend that the general manager take enforcement action against you.

Liquor inspectors also review and approve applications for catering authorizations and may contact you if they have any questions about a catered event.

The Role of Police

Police officers also make regular, unannounced visits to licensed establishments. The police consider these visits to be an important part of their routine patrols in the community.

When the police walk through your establishment, they will look for evidence of any liquor contraventions, especially those that could result in disturbances within the community or that could threaten public safety, such as drunkenness, overcrowding or minors in possession of alcohol. If the police notice a contravention, they will record it on a form called a Licensed Premises Check (LPC), leave one copy with you and send one to the Liquor Control and Licensing Branch.

The branch follows up on all LPCs, and may ask a liquor inspector to conduct a further inspection. If the inspector confirms the contravention, he or she may issue a Contravention Notice and may recommend enforcement action.

If you have a catering endorsement, you are responsible for notifying police in advance of all catered events you are selling liquor at, and police may contact you if they have any concerns. You do not have to notify police in advance of residential events, for events where the host is providing the liquor, or for food-only events where you are not selling liquor.

The Role of Local Government and First Nations

A liquor licence is only one requirement in opening a licensed establishment in British Columbia. Liquor licensees must also deal with local governments on such issues as zoning, building bylaws, business licensing requirements and health and fire Regulations.

Local governments are responsible for protecting the peace and good order of their communities and are often the first to learn about problems relating to licensed establishments. The general manager takes complaints from local governments that licensed establishments are operating contrary to the public interest and are disturbing people in the surrounding area very seriously.

If you have a catering endorsement, you must ensure that all catered events comply with local by-laws, health and fire regulations and that your clients have obtained any necessary local government approvals (e.g., local government approval is needed for all events on local government property, such as parks). For events with extended liquor service hours (after 10 pm outdoors) and for community events, you, as the caterer, must keep a copy of the local government approval on file and have a copy at the event.

The Tsawwassen First Nation and Nisga'a Nation have a treaty right to approve all events on their land.

Managing Your Business

Posting Your Licence

You must post your liquor licence certificate in a prominent location in the licensed area to ensure it is immediately available for review by liquor inspectors and police.

Storing Your Floor Plans

When you first applied for a liquor primary licence, you submitted your establishment's floor plans for approval. Once they were approved by the general manager, these floor plans became part of your liquor licence. As with the licence certificate, liquor inspectors and the police must have quick and easy access to the information contained in your floor plans.

Your floor plans must be stored in the licensed area of the establishment, and must be immediately available for presentation to a liquor inspector or a police officer on request.

Renewing Your Licence

Liquor Primary licensees must renew their liquor licence before the licence expiry date each year and pay an annual licence fee. These fees are effective as of 1 April, 2010.

Application fee: $2200

First Year Fee: $2200

If you have an off-premises sales endorsement: $100 annually

If you have a Catering Endorsement – Annual Renewal Fee: $100

After the first year fee LCLB calculates the annual fee based on the amount of liquor the licensee purchased from the Liquor Distribution Branch in the previous calendar year* (see the chart below):

Annual Liquor Purchases from the Liquor Distribution Branch	FEE
$12,500 or less	$ 250
over $12,500 and up to $20,000	$ 500
over $20,000 and up to $45,000	$ 825
over $45,000 and up to $100,000	$1,100
over $100,000 and up to $500,000	$1,400
over $500,000 and up to $1,000,000	$1,700
over $1,000,000 and up to $2,000,000	$2,000
over $2,000,000	$2,200

*Calculation of calendar year when records not available: If the period on which the LCLB bases the calculation is less than 12 months, the LCLB uses a standard formula to determine the annual licence fee. Please contact the branch at 1 866 209-2111.

Prorated Fee Schedule

Prorated licence fees may apply to Liquor Primary licensees who already hold a liquor licence and are used to calculate licence fees for a term of less or more than a year in the following situation: A licensee who already holds a liquor licence may request that a second or third licence be issued for a period of six to 18 months in order to coordinate the previously granted licence with the new licence to a common expiry date. Subsequent renewals will occur annually on this common date. These fees are effective as of 1 April, 2010.

1 month	$ 183	4 months	$ 733	7 months	$ 1283	10 months	$ 1833
2 months	$ 366	5 months	$ 916	8 months	$ 1466	11 months	$ 2016
3 months	$ 549	6 months	$ 1100	9 months	$ 1649	12 months	$ 2200

Fee Schedules for Licence Changes

Providing Information to the Branch

You must be forthright in providing information to the branch. Making a misleading statement or failing to disclose a material fact (such as the fact that a third party is using your licence, or that the lease on your property is about to run out) are licensing contraventions.

Making Changes to Your Liquor Licence

The details of your liquor licence application – who you are, the location, size and layout of your establishment, etc. – are critical factors in the decision to grant a licence.

Any changes you intend to make to these factors after your licence is granted require the approval of the branch before you make the changes. Note that if there is enforcement action pending on your licence, change applications in progress will not be considered until enforcement action is concluded.

(See Appendix 3 for detailed information about making changes to your licence.)

Selling Your Business and Transferring Your Licence to a New Owner

To transfer your liquor licence to a new owner, the new owner must apply to transfer the licence using the Application for a Liquor primary Licence form. As the current licensee, you will need to sign the Agreement to Transfer Licence(s) section of that form — this is where you officially agree that when the general manager approves the transfer application you will relinquish all claims to your licence(s). You also acknowledge that you will continue to be held responsible for any contraventions that occur until the transfer is approved. The new owner can also request a change in the name of the business.

If applicable, you must also give the new owner all records of liquor bought from the Liquor Distribution Branch in stock at the time of the sale. The general manager may not approve a licence transfer if the branch is in the process of taking action against you as the current licensee.

Using Your Establishment for Unlicensed Events

You may occasionally use your establishment for unlicensed events (these are events where liquor is not served), either during or outside your regular licensed hours.

During licensed hours

If minors are not normally permitted in your establishment, you may not have minors at your unlicensed events. To use your establishment for an unlicensed event during the hours noted on your liquor licence, you must:

- apply to the general manager to have your licence temporarily suspended from one-half (½) hour before the start of your event through until the end of liquor service hours for that business day (which stretches over to the next calendar day if your hours of service end after midnight), and
- make sure all liquor is secured and inaccessible during the event. Once you have closed for the night (within half an hour after the end of liquor service) you must remain closed until at least 6:00 a.m.

Outside licensed hours

To use your establishment for an occasional unlicensed event outside the hours noted on your liquor licence, minors are permitted and you do not need to apply for special permission, but you must:

- make sure all liquor is secured and inaccessible during the event, and
- remain closed for one-half (½) hour after the event, before you can re-open as a licensed establishment.

Operating an Unlicensed Games Area

Liquor primary licensees may apply to have a separate, unlicensed area where minors are allowed (such as a games area), provided building officials are able to calculate a separate occupant load for the licensed area, and the physical separation is both fixed and immovable to ensure the size of the licensed area is maintained.

If you have been approved for an unlicensed area:

- you must be able to control access to the licensed area
- you must ensure patrons do not take liquor into the unlicensed area, and
- patrons must be able to enter the unlicensed games area without having to go through the licensed area.

If you offer adult entertainment in the licensed area of your establishment, you must also ensure customers in the unlicensed area cannot see into the licensed area.

Buying, Storing, Selling and Serving Liquor

Buying liquor

You must purchase your liquor from a Liquor Distribution Branch liquor store or other outlet designated (in writing) by the general manager or the Liquor Distribution Branch.

Whenever you buy liquor, you must first identify yourself as a licensee. The liquor store will then record your purchase against your licence number. It is a serious contravention to buy liquor from another source, or to purchase liquor that is not recorded against your licence number.

Storing liquor

You must store your liquor at your establishment or at an off-site storage area, if you have notified the branch of the off-site storage location.

Off-site storage areas must be located in British Columbia, and may not be located in a residence.

If you store liquor for more than one licence in a common liquor storage area, the liquor that was purchased or manufactured under each licence must be clearly identifiable.

You must keep a list of storage areas with the liquor licence and produce it upon request by a liquor inspector or police. You must advise the branch if an off-site storage area is no longer being used by submitting an Off-Site Storage Notification form.

Revised
May
2014

Maintaining a liquor register

You must keep a detailed, written record of every liquor purchase made under your licence by date and storage location in a liquor register. This is usually a book or binder where you keep your copies of the documentation you receive every time you buy liquor.

You must also keep a record in your liquor register of all faulty or damaged kegs of beer or cider or kegs containing spoiled product that you receive and replace.

Your liquor register must be available for inspection by a liquor inspector or police at any time. The inspector or police officer may look at your register and compare it to your liquor stock to make sure you have purchased your liquor in the proper way. It is not sufficient to simply store receipts of your liquor purchases and call these your record or your register.

Illicit or private liquor

You may not buy, keep, sell or give illicit liquor to anyone. Illicit liquor is defined as:

- liquor purchased “over the counter” from a source other than your designated liquor outlet
- stolen liquor
- smuggled liquor
- liquor intended for export
- home manufactured or UBrew/UVin liquor (you may serve it at a residential event)
- liquor purchased as a medicinal, confectionery or culinary product that is being used as beverage alcohol
- liquor that has been adulterated or watered-down, and
- samples that may have been left by a liquor representative.

You are accountable for any illicit liquor found anywhere on your premises (service or storage area). It is not acceptable to say that illicit liquor made its way into your stock by accident, that it was a gift for personal use, or that an employee left it there.

If you recently purchased your establishment and acquired your licence through a transfer, you must conduct a thorough audit of all liquor on the premises to ensure none is illicit.

Because the risk of internal theft is high in licensed establishments, you must put safeguards in place to make sure staff or others do not water down or otherwise adulterate your liquor supply. The extent of the safeguards required will vary depending on the circumstances.

Culinary product containing alcohol that you keep for cooking must stay in the kitchen and separate from liquor kept for sale.

You also may not keep or serve liquor bought for private consumption in your establishment or your liquor storage area.

Hours of sale

You may sell or serve liquor at your liquor primary establishment only during the hours indicated on the face of your licence.

On New Year’s Eve, you may serve liquor at your liquor primary establishment until 4:00 a.m. on January 1, regardless of your normal closing hour (and provided food is available to customers), unless the general manager has directed otherwise or local bylaws prohibit it.

On the night of a time change (spring or fall), you must operate according to the hours in effect at the start of the Saturday business day, and wait to change your clocks (forward or back) until after your liquor service hours have ended for that business day.

Clearing patrons when liquor service ends

Unless the licensee has applied, and received permission for, an extension of hours as a temporary or permanent licence change, all patrons must leave your liquor primary establishment within half an hour of liquor service ending. You must close your establishment immediately after this time. You are prohibited from selling or serving liquor – or using your establishment for any other purpose – between your closing time (within half an hour after the end of liquor service) and 6 a.m.

Dispensing liquor and mixing drinks

You are permitted to pre-mix drinks by hand or by using devices such as a Bellini machine in anticipation of patrons ordering drinks, provided that the liquor comes from the original containers purchased from the Liquor Distribution Branch. You cannot refill original containers purchased from the Liquor Distribution Branch with anything. Doing so would make monitoring illicit liquor difficult.

As you cannot refill original containers purchased from the Liquor Distribution Branch with anything, you are not permitted to make what is commonly known as barrel oaked or aged liquor (not aged in its original container) or infused liquor in which substances (e.g. herbs, spices, or fruit) are added to the liquor to create customized spirits.

Please note you are not permitted to circulate trays of pre-mixed or pre-poured drinks that have not been ordered. You must dispense drinks at a liquor service bar, in full view of customers. You must not permit the self-service of liquor by patrons.

Price lists

You must have a list available showing the types of liquor available, the size of each drink you sell and its price. Your price list should also include any drink specials you are currently offering.

You may post the price list as a printed list or on a board, or it can be available at all tables. At a minimum, it must be available to customers on request.

Where customers may consume liquor

Customers may not bring their own bottles of liquor to consume in your establishment, and you may only sell and serve liquor in the licensed area of your establishment (commonly referred to as the red-lined area” of your floor plans).

You may not permit customers to consume liquor outside of the red-lined area, or to take liquor from the red-lined area to other parts of your establishment, except:

- Patrons may take liquor into the washroom as long as they are not walking through an unlicensed area (such as a hotel lobby), and you are properly supervising the washrooms.

Your price lists:

- Must indicate whether the price includes taxes, and what the applicable taxes are.
- Must indicate the size of each drink (you may use common names, such as "a sleeve of beer," which is 14 oz).
- Do not have to include a complete list of all available mixed drinks, provided you clearly list the price and amount of liquor (e.g., "mixed drinks contain 1 oz of liquor, and cost 'x' for bar brands, and 'y' for premium").

- Professional entertainers may consume liquor while on stage provided they do not become intoxicated; however, patrons are prohibited from consuming liquor on an unlicensed stage even when they are providing entertainment such as during an amateur or karaoke night.
- Customers may take away unfinished bottles of wine. Your staff must put a new cork in the bottle and tell customers who are driving that they must store the wine behind the rear seat, in the trunk, or in an exterior compartment – it must be out of reach of people in the car.

Gift cards/certificates

You may sell gift cards/certificates, but only from your licensed premises. You must not sell gift cards/certificates to minors.

The cards/certificates may be redeemed at your establishment or at another licensed establishment. This would allow your gift cards/certificates to be redeemed at any of your licensed outlets or at places where you have an agreement to accept each other's gift cards.

You may use a gift certificate business to administer your card/certificate program.

Exceptions to the General Rules

Liquor primary club licence

The general rules for a liquor primary club licence are similar to the liquor primary licence, but some special rules do apply. For example, to be eligible for a licence, a club must:

- be legally incorporated as a society
- have been in continuous operation for at least one year
- have at least 50 members who pay $10 or more in annual membership fees
- have its own facilities, and
- do its own catering and liquor sales (these functions may not be sublet)

In addition, clubs must:

- only sell liquor to members or their guests
- keep a visitors' register
- impose a limit on the number of guests entering the club, and
- report to the branch the results of their annual board elections (this keeps the branch informed about who is responsible for the liquor licence).

A club may not solicit the general public in its advertisements. If the club ceases to exist, the liquor licence is void. A club with no members and/or no facilities is considered to no longer exist (if the club has no members, then it cannot legally sell liquor).

Off-premises sales

If you have an endorsement for off-premises sales, you may sell your products only until 11 p.m. each evening, and customers must immediately leave your establishment as soon as they have made their purchases.

Liquor sales and service on golf courses

Golf courses with a liquor primary licence may apply for a licence term and condition that allows them to serve liquor to patrons on the playing area from a kiosk, take-out window, beverage cart or from the interior liquor primary service bar. (One beverage cart is permitted for every nine holes on the course; the playing area does not include practice areas such as the driving range or the putting green.)

If you have a golf course licence endorsement:

- Anyone serving liquor on the playing area of the golf course or in a licensed lounge must be employed by you, be at least 19 years of age, and have successfully completed Serving It Right (please see the section on Providing Safe and Responsible Service).
- You must ensure that customers who purchase liquor on a golf course consume it on the playing area or in the liquor primary licensed areas; they may not drink liquor in, or carry liquor to, other unlicensed areas of the golf course.

- You are responsible for making sure patrons do not bring their own liquor onto the course.
- You may sell liquor from a cart, kiosk or take-out window only during the hours indicated on the face of your licence.
- You must have snacks and non-alcoholic beverages available for sale, at reasonable prices, during all hours of liquor service.
- You must post rules pertaining to the availability of liquor service on the playing area from the interior service bar, beverage carts, kiosks and take-out windows before the first tee box and where patrons can see them.

You must post additional signs at the tee box one hole before a roadway crossing to notify golfers that they are not to consume (or carry in hand) any beverages containing alcohol while crossing public roads in a golf cart, because a golf cart is regarded as a motor vehicle.

Serving or selling liquor in a stadium

To serve or sell liquor in a stadium, you must:

- have prior written permission from the organizers of the event
- serve all liquor in disposable containers (this may include disposable/recyclable plastic bottles or aluminum cans, provided they are opened prior to handing them over to patrons)
- have prior approval from the general manager if you want mobile liquor vendors (hawkers) in the stands (note that hawkers may not sell shooters), and
- set aside a reasonable amount of the stadium's tiered seating where liquor is not allowed.

Stadium suites and boxes

The following provisions apply only to licensed stadiums which have private suites or boxes available for rental by the event or game or for all or part of a season. To qualify, the suites or boxes must be clearly delineated on all four sides as separate seating, with three walls being floor to ceiling and with one or more doorways, which is rented as a whole and with clear views of the events occurring at the stadium.

Minors are permitted in private suites and boxes.

You may apply for approval to permit pre-stocking of suites and boxes for self-service by the patrons using those facilities. If approved, the following terms and conditions apply to self-service in private suites and boxes:

- All liquor used in the suites/boxes must be purchased from the licensee at regular prices;
- All types of liquor may be pre-stocked;
- Glassware is permitted in the suite/box;
- Patrons may serve themselves from the liquor supplied to the suite/box; staff may also serve patrons;
- Liquor must not be taken from the suite/box to other parts of the stadium;
- Minors may be present in the suite/box but if there are no adults present the liquor must be secured in a locked cabinet;
- No other form of entertainment is allowed; the suite/box is intended for viewing the entertainment provided at the stadium;
- Suite/box renters may order liquor from the licensee and have it stored in a refrigerator or bar in the suite/box;
- If the suite/box is for the exclusive use of one renter, liquor remaining at the end of the event

may be stored in a locked cabinet in the suite/box for use at a different time; excess liquor must not be taken away from the stadium;

- If the suite/box is not used exclusively by one renter then at the end of the event all remaining liquor must be returned to the licensee;
- Licensees are required to regularly monitor suites/boxes to ensure compliance with liquor laws and the terms and conditions of the licence;
- In addition to the enforcement actions that the general manager can take, the licensee must also immediately remove intoxicated patrons from the establishment and immediately remove or lock up all stocked liquor if patrons of the suite/box are over consuming or intoxicated or minors are consuming liquor and, for the rest of that event, allow only regular liquor service for consumption in the suite/box.

You must ensure that you have access and control over all areas inside the stadium, including private suites/boxes.

Where you allow locked storage cabinets in private suites/boxes, you must retain copies of the keys or access codes for every cabinet or storage area in the boxes and must provide the keys and access codes to liquor inspectors upon request.

Catering Endorsements

What does a Catering Endorsement Allow You to Do?

A Catering endorsement enables you to provide a full range of food and beverage services at event for your local, out of province or international clients.

You may cater to events on the same property as your liquor primary establishment, as long as the event is held outside the licensed area (the area that is red-lined on your floor plans), and events are primarily held off-site (i.e., at locations other than your licensed establishment).

Terms and conditions at an event may differ from the terms and conditions regarding hours, food service, minors or entertainment that apply at your licensed establishment. For example, you may cater an event that has minors even though your liquor primary establishment does not permit minors.

Making Sure your Catering Services Focus on Food

As a liquor primary licensee with a catering endorsement, you are responsible for ensuring that the primary focus of your catering services is the preparation and serving of food, and you have the personnel and infrastructure necessary to prepare and serve food at events hosted by others. Alcohol is considered an accompaniment to the food at events.

In assessing whether you meet these requirements, the branch may consider:

- Kitchen equipment
- Food selection offered
- Advertising
- Financial records (including catering contracts)
- Staffing
- The ratio of receipts from food sales to receipts from liquor sales at catered events, and
- any other relevant consideration that may assist in the determination.

That means you must meet the following requirements:

- Kitchen Equipment: Other than in exceptional circumstances, the kitchen should be equipped with commercial appliances including a range, oven, refrigerator and dishwasher, and also have a food storage area and a food preparation area. Equipment needed to transport and serve food at events should also be available.
- Food Selection Available: The food selection for hosts to choose from must include a reasonable variety of appetizers and main courses.
- Staffing: Your business must have a cook and adequate servers to cater events.
- Financial Records: You must make all financial records available and provide receipts for the liquor inspector to review upon request. (Please see the section on Inspections for a complete list of the records you are required to keep.)
- Food to Liquor Ratio: The ratio of receipts from food sales to receipts from liquor sales at events must support the fact that your primary focus is food.

Types of Events you May Cater

For the purposes of a catering endorsement, events are either Residential Events or Catered Events. They have different terms and conditions, and these are described later in this section. There are also general terms and conditions that apply to catering endorsements.

Residential Events: These are invitation only events held at a private residence, such as a dinner party or wedding.

Catered Events include:

- personal events which are invitation only events for family and friends such as a wedding or birthday party
- corporate events which are business events that typically are invitation only, no admission, and a host bar
- community events such as a festival, sports tournament or concert, or
- other events such as a political party fundraiser, gallery event or theatre show.

With a catering endorsement, you can also serve liquor at events where only the host provides the liquor, such as a Special Occasion Licence event, or an event at a private location where a Special Occasion Licence is not required. In these circumstances, the caterer cannot purchase, transport or sell the liquor; they may only serve it. You are only required to notify the Liquor Control and Licensing Branch if you are selling and serving liquor purchased under your licence at a catered event.

Requesting a Catering Authorization

Anytime you are selling and serving liquor purchased under your licence at a catered event, you must submit a request for a Catering Authorization. You will be asked key facts about the event such as the date, time and location, client's name, nature of the event, whether the event includes minors, and the type of food and entertainment offered. You submit the request for a Catering Authorization to the Branch online via the OneStop Business Registry (www.bcbusinessregistry.ca).

To respect personal privacy, Catering Authorizations are not required for residential events.

Certain events will be considered low risk and approved automatically; others will require the liquor inspector's approval.

Events will be considered low risk if the following circumstances apply:

- Family events under 500 people
- Corporate events under 500 people
- Indoor events (other than community events) under 500 people
- Any event (other than a community event) where the duration of liquor service does not exceed 2 hours.

Please note:

Catering authorizations for low risk events must be requested 10 calendar days ahead.

Catering authorizations for all other events must be requested 21 calendar days ahead.

All other events will require the liquor inspector's approval. In addition, catered events with extended hours (e.g. outdoor events after 10pm) will require the liquor inspector's approval.

In some circumstances, the branch may require that all catered events from a caterer be approved by a liquor inspector. For example, the caterer, business location, or associated establishments may be high risk, or the caterer may have a compliance history that warrants this action.

If a catered event requires a liquor inspector's approval, the liquor inspector may require you to submit a security plan, or may require you to submit evidence that the police, fire department, or local government support the event. The liquor inspector's approval may include conditions.

The branch may cancel an event authorization if the information for an event was inaccurate or has changed. The branch may amend an event authorization upon request.

The general manager may limit the frequency of catered events at specific locations.

You must notify police, via fax or email, of all catered events.

Local Government/First Nation Approvals

You must keep copies of local government/First Nation approval on file for all community events, and for events with extended hours (outdoor events after 10 pm, or indoor events after 2 am on New Year's Eve). In addition, you must keep copies of approvals from the Tsawwassen First Nation or Nisga'a Nation for all events on their land.

If a local government or First Nation issued their approval subject to conditions, you must provide a copy of the conditions to the liquor inspector.

Some local governments have decided to opt out and to not approve community events or requests for catered events with extended hours in their area. Please refer to our website at <http://www.pssg.gov.bc.ca/lclb/docs-forms/lq-fn-caterer-opt-out.pdf> for a current list of these local governments.

Security Plans

For certain events, the liquor inspector will ask you to submit a security plan. This will help ensure plans are in place to minimize alcohol-related problems that may arise. The security plan must describe the event in some detail, including staffing levels and security if required, liquor service areas, and venue capacity. It must describe how key safety and security risks will be addressed, such as service to minors, over-crowding and intoxication, and control and safety of guests, including entering and exiting the venue.

Whether you are required to submit a security plan will depend on factors such as:

- The number of people attending the event and whether minors are present
- How prominent drinking will be at the event
- The time of day and length of the event
- The type of event
- Target age and type of music that will be featured
- Whether the event is open to the general public
- The venue configuration and how easy it is to monitor guest behaviour
- Police capacity to respond to problem situations
- Previous events and the caterer's experience

A template for the Security Plan is available on the LCLB website at <http://www.pssg.gov.bc.ca/lclb/docs-forms/LCLB099.pdf>. Someone other than you, such as the host or an event planner, may prepare the plan, but you are responsible for submitting it to the inspector.

Terms and Conditions that apply to your Catering Endorsement

- All staff that are serving or managing events must have Serving It Right certification.
- Catered events must primarily be held off site.
- Minors may serve food or work as entertainers at events, but they may not serve liquor.
- Only you or your employees may sell liquor at an event, and you or your employees must be in attendance at the event at all times that liquor is being sold or served.
- You must remove any un-used liquor at the end of the event, and return it to the inventory at your business location. With the exception of re-sealed bottles of wine, you can't leave unfinished bottles of spirits or unopened bottles of liquor at the event.
- You must set the price of liquor prior to an event, and that price may not change once the event has begun. Liquor prices may be different for different events, and may be different than the price list in effect for your liquor primary establishment.
- For events with a hosted bar, you only need to state that the liquor is provided complimentary of the host (rather than telling patrons how much the host is being charged for each drink).
- You may not promote or invite guests to events you are catering. Exceptions to this are infrequent client appreciation and staff appreciation events, where you provide the liquor at no cost to your invited guests.
- You must not cater a series of events for the same person if it appears that you are operating an ongoing business with that person.
- You must retain all revenue from liquor sales at an event. You must not give any portion of the revenue from liquor sales to the event host.

Terms and Conditions that apply to Catered Events

- Catered Events: refer to any event that is not held in a residence, such as a community hall, park or corporate boardroom, where liquor is sold by a licensed caterer.
- Authorization Required: You must obtain a catering authorization from the Branch prior to each catered event (see below for more information).

- Posting Licence: You must post a copy of your liquor licence and the catering authorization, and have available any local government approvals or security plans, at a catered event.
- Venue:
 - The site of a catered event must be adequately separated from adjacent licensed and unlicensed areas, and must be supervised to the Branch's satisfaction. Outdoor events must be surrounded by a barrier sufficient to confine the service and consumption of liquor. This assists you to control capacity, evaluate patrons when they arrive, and prevent patrons from removing liquor from the licensed area. The type of perimeter fencing required will vary with the event. Stanchions may be sufficient for a small corporate event, whereas a community event would require more substantial fencing.
 - You must ensure that all catered events comply with local by-laws, health and fire regulations. Catered events on land within the Agricultural Land Reserve must comply with Agricultural Land Commission requirements.
 - The number of guests at a catered event must not exceed the occupant load set for the venue or the number of guests specified in the catering authorization. You must have controls at each entry point to the venue, and you must be able to count the number of people entering and leaving.
- Minors: Minors are permitted at catered events, unless restricted by the Branch or the host. Minors are not permitted at catered events with adult entertainment or gambling.
- Hours: Liquor may be served at indoor events between 9 a.m. and 2 a.m., and at outdoor events from 9 a.m. and 10 p.m. With local government and the Branch's approval, liquor service hours for outdoor event may be extended until 2 a.m. On New Year's Eve, liquor service at catered events may be extended to 4 a.m., provided that food is available to patrons and local government has given approval.
- Food: Food and non-alcoholic beverages must be provided at all catered events. While food does not need to be served at all times during events, over the course of the event liquor service must be secondary to food service. At a minimum, appetizers must be served and more food may be required, depending on the length and type of event. Serving packaged snacks such as chips, peanuts, and those commonly found in vending machines does not meet the minimum food requirement.
- Price:
 - You must set the price of liquor prior to an event, and that price may not change once the event has begun. Liquor prices may be different for different events, and may be different than the price list in effect for your liquor primary establishment.
 - The price list and the quantity of liquor in each drink must be made available to guests upon request. You must tell guests the drink prices for a cash bar, but for a host bar, you only need to state that the liquor is provided complimentary of the host (rather than telling the guests how much the host is being charged for each drink).
- Liquor Service:
 - Patrons may only consume liquor in those areas noted on the catering authorization.

- The host or guests are not allowed to bring their own wine or other liquor to a catered event. All liquor purchased from you must be consumed at the event, with the exception of unfinished bottles of wine which may be re-sealed for guests to take home.
- You may sell or serve liquor only during the hours indicated on the Catering Authorization for a particular catered event. You must ensure that liquor is taken from guests within ½ hour after the time stated on the catering authorization for liquor service.
- Gaming: In most cases, all types of gaming licensed by the Gaming Policy and Enforcement Branch are permitted at catered events. However, if minors are allowed at a catered event you must not permit any gaming except for ticket raffles and BC Lottery products.
- Entertainment:
 - The entertainment offered at a catered event must be compatible with the nature of the event, and not interfere with your ability to maintain effective care and control. For example, if the entertainment uses part of an event area, you must ensure that guests will not be so crowded together that staff will be unable to observe and control their conduct.
 - Entertainment must conform to local bylaws, and must not create excessive noise or otherwise negatively impact nearby residents and businesses.
 - Entertainment, games and activities that may jeopardize patron or public safety are not permitted.
 - You may not hold a contest or tournament at a catered event, but the host may do so.
 - If a catered event features adult entertainment, you must post a sign at the entrance. Minors are not permitted at catering functions where adult oriented entertainment is provided. See the section on Adult Entertainment in this Guide for addition rules.

Terms and Conditions that apply to Residential Events

- A residential event is an event for the client and his/her invited guests held at a residence.
- Catering authorizations are not required for Residential Events.
- Minors may be permitted at residential events.
- You may only sell liquor to the host; you may not sell drinks directly to the patrons at a residential event.
- You may only sell liquor that has been purchased from the Liquor Distribution Branch at a residential event. However, you may serve liquor provided by the host or the host's guests at a residential event. This includes commercially-made and UBrew/UVin product.
- All liquor you sell to the host for a residential event must be consumed at the event. At the conclusion of the residential event, all unused liquor purchased under your licence must be returned to your business location, with the exception of unfinished bottles of wine which the host may keep or guests may take home. Your staff must re-seal the bottle and tell patrons who are driving that they must store the wine behind the rear seat, in the trunk, or in an exterior compartment – it must be out of reach of people in the car.

Providing a Safe and Responsible Service

Serving It Right™: B.C.'s Responsible Beverage Service Program

Serving It Right is a self-study course that educates licensees, managers and servers about their legal responsibilities when serving liquor, and provides effective techniques to prevent problems related to over service.

Serving It Right must be completed by all licensees, managers, bartenders, and servers. (The only exceptions to this requirement are licensees and staff of a licensed aircraft and unpaid managers and servers in a liquor primary club.) If you are licensed as a public or private corporation, the licensee portion of this requirement is met if any director, officer or employee responsible for controlling the sale of liquor completes the Serving It Right program.

You are responsible for making sure your employees take Serving It Right. You must keep photocopies of their Serving It Right certificates to be available at all times for inspection by a liquor inspector or police officer.

Controlling Your Establishment

Your responsibilities

You and your employees are responsible for managing and controlling the behaviour of patrons. You must ensure that other patrons, your staff and members of the community are not harmed as a result of liquor misuse or criminal activity in your liquor primary establishment or at a catered event, and you are required to take steps to ensure your business does not disturb the surrounding community.

Effective November 1, 2009, staff or contractors providing door security in licensed establishments are required to be licensed under the Security Services Act. For more information, contact the Ministry of Public Safety and Solicitor General at <http://www.pssq.gov.bc.ca/securityindustry/>. You and your employees or contractors are prohibited from using handcuffs in the course of maintaining order in and around your liquor primary establishment or a catered event.

If your staff, patrons or members of the community have reason to be concerned that there is a threat to their safety, you must act on these concerns. If criminal or riotous conduct has occurred, or you suspect it may, then you must notify police immediately.

Training exemption for out-of-province employees

Effective April 1, 2009, servers relocating to British Columbia from other Canadian jurisdictions who have a certificate showing completion of a recognized responsible beverage service program in another Canadian jurisdiction are exempt from the requirement to take Serving It Right training. A full list of recognized programs is available on our website.

An individual who has been asked to leave, or who has been barred from entering your liquor primary establishment or a catered event, must not return for at least 24 hours. If a person does this, he or she is committing an offence and may be arrested.

Section 22 of the Act allows the general manager to suspend a liquor licence for 24 hours, or suspend or cancel a catering authorization, and order the immediate removal of patrons where there is an imminent threat to people's safety. In this situation, you are required to take all reasonable steps to ensure that customers vacate the premises immediately.

In extraordinary circumstances, the general manager may suspend a licence or catering authorization or impose terms and conditions for up to 14 days without a hearing. While rarely exercised, section 23 of the Act provides this power for situations where there are public interest or safety concerns, for example when there has been violence or extensive criminal activity, there is the risk of retaliatory gang violence or the possibility of public unrest.

Preventing disturbances

You must take reasonable measures to make sure your business is not operating contrary to the public interest and does not disturb people near your establishment or a catered event.

Examples of reasonable measures include installing adequate lighting outside your establishment and in the parking lot, supervising your parking areas, adding sound proofing, making approved structural changes to allow indoor line-up areas, and posting signs at the exit doors asking your patrons not to disturb your neighbours. (Please see Appendix 2 for further examples of reasonable measures.)

Minors

You must not allow minors in your establishment, unless you have applied for and received special authorization from the general manager.

It is against the law to sell, serve, or supply liquor to a minor. You and your staff are expected to put in place effective systems to meet this obligation. If you or an employee allow a minor to enter your establishment or to purchase liquor, your licensing privileges could be jeopardized and you risk prosecution.

You may not employ minors, except at stadiums.

Minors employed in liquor primary stadiums who are 16 years of age or older may serve liquor but may not open bottles nor pour or mix liquor. Minors serving liquor must be under the Steps you can take to ensure responsible service:

- Hold regular staff meetings to discuss liquor issues.
- Let your staff know that you will support them when they cut a patron off or refuse service.
- Be familiar with "drive home" programs offered in your community.
- Have door staff to monitor the entry and exit of guests and control the numbers in your establishment (you might want to supply them with mechanical counters that will allow them to track the number of patrons entering and leaving).
- Food and non-alcoholic beverages must be available at reasonable prices.
- Give "last call" toward the end of the night and do not allow patrons to buy excessive amounts of liquor at that time.
- Include in your catering contract that the host must support your decisions to exclude patrons from entering (due to intoxication, weapons, or venue capacity), refuse service to a patron, or request that an intoxicated patron

Important!

If a liquor inspector believes you are not taking reasonable measures to prevent disturbances - or if we receive a number of complaints from the public about disturbances that can be linked back to your establishment - you will be required to attend a compliance meeting. (Please see the section on Enforcement for more about compliance meetings.)

supervision of adult staff.

If you have a catering endorsement, minors may serve food or work as entertainers at events, but they may not serve liquor.

You may employ minors as entertainers (including DJs) but you must ensure that they are supervised at all times. Whenever they are not entertaining, minors must leave the licensed areas.

Under no circumstances may a minor perform as an exotic dancer or in any other form of adult oriented or sexually explicit entertainment.

Exceptions to the prohibition of minors

Minors are allowed in licensed establishments under very limited circumstances. Specifically, they are permitted in:

- aircrafts, trains, motor vessels, stadiums, concert halls and convention centres
- the lounges at Vancouver International Airport (and any other airport lounges that have a licence endorsement) when travelling with a parent or legal guardian
- the playing areas of golf courses that are allowed to sell liquor to golfers from a take-out window, kiosk or beverage cart
- military messes, provided the event in the mess is sponsored by the military or a member of the mess, or the minor is a full member of the mess
- any licensed establishment while performing as professional entertainers.
- ski resort lounges, if approved by the general manager, and minors are accompanied by a parent or legal guardian
- the licensed area of a curling club, golf course facility, stadium, or recreation centre, if approved by the general manager
- liquor primary clubs for special events, if a temporary licence change has been approved by the general manager and provided there is not another suitable area within the club, minors are accompanied by a parent or legal guardian and a sit-down meal is served.
- Royal Canadian Legions, on Remembrance Day, during liquor service hours.
- At catered events or residential events, unless there is adult entertainment or gaming (other than ticket raffles and BC Lottery products) at the event.

ID requirements

You must demonstrate that you are preventing minors from obtaining liquor. You must do an initial assessment of every patron before allowing them to enter your establishment (if you have door control), or before selling or serving them liquor. When you verify a customer's age, you and your employees must ask for two pieces of identification.

Important!

There is an ongoing obligation on the part of a licensee to ensure that minors are not served or sold liquor. A server or bartender cannot rely on the fact that door staff admitted a patron into the licensed establishment as the basis for serving that patron. The server or bartender must also make a determination that the patron is not a minor prior to serving them liquor, or allowing them to remain in the licensed establishment.

To verify identification, ask the person for:

- A sample signature to compare to the signature on the photo identification.
- His or her zodiac sign – people with false identification often will be unable to answer quickly.
- His or her middle name and how to spell it.
- Information that is on the identification, such as the person's address or postal code.

The first piece of identification must:

- be issued by a government agency (e.g. a passport or driver's licence), and
- include the person's name, birth date and picture.

The second piece must:

- include the holder's name (e.g. a credit card or Care Card), and
- include the person's signature and/or picture.

If the person cannot produce two pieces of acceptable identification that proves they are 19 or older, you must refuse entry.

The purpose of this second piece of ID is to verify the authenticity of the first.

Examples of ID issued by a government agency include state or provincial driver licences, passports, citizenship cards, First Nations status card, the federal firearms possession and acquisition licence, National Defence ID – essentially any government issued ID that includes the person's name, birth date and picture. Any of these ID cards can be used as a secondary piece of identification as well. It must also be noted that the law does not require that an expiry date be checked for any of these ID.

As of February, 2013, a new BC Services card has come into circulation. This card replaces and combines the original BC driver licence and health care cards into one identification card. The transition will be complete by 2018. There will be a separate BC Services card for those individuals that choose not to drive. The Care Card has been cited as the most used form of secondary ID, raising concerns about its loss in this regard.

However, in addition to the types of cards listed above there are numerous other forms of secondary ID available that include the person's name, signature and/or picture. Some examples include many types of bank cards, pleasure craft operator's card, Aeroplan cards (but not airmiles), many university or college student IDs, credit cards, BC Transit Pro Passes, Canadian Blood Services plastic blood donor cards and more.

If the person cannot produce two pieces of acceptable identification that proves they are 19 or older, you must refuse service.

You must cooperate with a liquor inspector if the inspector asks you or your staff to determine whether a person is a minor.

You are encouraged (but not required) to retain identification that is clearly false and to turn it over to your liquor inspector. If you suspect that a passport is fake please provide details to police, but do not take possession of it from the customer. Holding back a valid passport is a federal offence. Where possible, the inspector will return the identification to the agency that issued it. (If the patron insists you return the ID, you should do so, but we encourage you to take a photocopy of it first to give to your liquor inspector.)

Setting aside an area to check ID

You must provide an area in your establishment that is well lit and protected from entertainment noise so that staff can properly review both the offered identification and the patron, and ask appropriate questions to test the ID's authenticity.

If you operate an establishment that is particularly attractive to young people, you will be expected to maintain a sufficient standard of scrutiny to prevent access to minors. To help prevent minors from gaining access to your establishment, we suggest you:

- assign an experienced doorperson to check ID
- secure any uncontrolled exits, as allowed in fire safety rules, regulations or codes, and
- ensure every doorperson is properly instructed on the age verification procedures.

If your procedures are not effective, your local liquor inspector may direct you to install the appropriate lighting, signage, video cameras and noise barriers to ensure your staff can check identification properly. Licensees directed to install and operate video cameras may be required to provide the film from those cameras for review by the branch.

Overcrowding

Your liquor licence tells you the maximum number of patrons or the maximum number of persons (patrons and staff) that you may allow in your liquor primary establishment at one time (see the definitions of "patron capacity" and "person capacity" at the beginning of this guide).

It is important for you to know the type of capacity for which your liquor primary establishment is licensed, and to make sure you stay within this limit. You must have controls at each entry point to your liquor primary establishment, and you must be able to count the number of people entering and leaving.

Local building/fire authorities also establish a maximum capacity or occupant load that may differ from your liquor licence maximum capacity. (In most cases, the occupant load maximum capacity will be greater than the liquor licence maximum capacity.) You may apply to the branch to increase your liquor licence maximum capacity so that it matches the occupant load maximum capacity set by building and/or fire authorities. If fire and building officials have each calculated an occupant load for your liquor primary establishment, or if an engineer or architect has, and the numbers are not the same, the lower number is the one you must use.

Please note:

If an inspector visits your establishment and is uncertain as to whether it is overcrowded, the inspector will count, as accurately as possible, the number of patrons/persons in your establishment.

If the count indicates that your establishment is overcrowded, the inspector will, if possible, do a second count. If you receive a Contravention Notice (please see the section on Inspections for more on this), it will include both the first and second count.

Drink sizes

You must encourage moderate consumption at all times and follow strict limits on the maximum size of servings.

Distilled liquor: Each drink containing distilled liquor (spirits) shall not contain more than three fluid ounces (85 ml) of distilled liquor. This applies regardless of whether the drink is served in one, or more than one, glass or container (for example, a single patron may not be served four one-ounce shooters or two two-ounce "doubles" at one time). Drinks that two or more patrons intend to share may be served in larger containers, but the maximum of three fluid ounces per person must be maintained. You may not sell or serve whole bottles of distilled liquor. This includes what is commonly known as bottle service or hosted bottle service, where a bottle of spirits is sold to patrons for consumption at their table, and includes the storage of these bottles behind the bar or in another secured location.

Maximum drink sizes per person:

Distilled liquor(spirits) . . .	3 oz (85 ml)
Draught beer . . .	24 oz (680 ml)
Bottled beer . . .	2 standard-size bottles or 1 large-size bottle (up to 24 oz - 680 ml)
Wine	10 oz (285 ml)

Draught beer: You may serve draught beer in single servings of no more than 24 oz (680 ml) or smaller servings of multiple brands, provided the total served at one time is no more than 24 oz (680 ml). For reference, a Canadian pint is 568ml. Pitchers or other multiple serving containers shared by two or more patrons may contain no more than 1.5 litres of draught beer.

Bottled beer: You may serve a maximum of two standard-sized or one large-sized (up to 24 oz or 680 ml) bottle of beer to a single patron at one time.

Wine: You may serve wine in single servings of 10 oz (285 ml) or in smaller servings of multiple brands provided the total served at one time is no more than 10 oz (285 ml). Wine may also be served by the standard 750 ml bottle if it is to be consumed by at least 2 people and with food. You may serve wine by the bottle, in non-refillable containers of .75 litre to 1.5 litres, or in refillable containers of no more than 1.5 litres.

Drink prices

To help encourage moderate consumption:

- You must charge at least as much as the original Liquor Distribution Branch purchase price.
- You must set your liquor prices at the start of the business day, and you cannot change them until the next business day.
- Happy Hours are not permitted. If you are going to offer a special or reduced price, it must be available all day and may not be offered on a brand or type of liquor for which you know you don't have enough stock.
- You may occasionally treat your customers to a free drink; however, you cannot give away multiple drinks that could lead to over-consumption.
- You may offer an all-inclusive package that includes liquor in the price (for example, "champagne brunch," Mother's Day special, New Year's Eve special). The amount of liquor to be provided must be specified and not unlimited.
- You must not provide unlimited or unspecified quantities of liquor for a single price or use a sales strategy that is likely to promote or encourage over-consumption. For example, you may not:
 - sell drinks "two for one"
 - allow staff to circulate with trays of pre-mixed drinks, such as shooters that are not pre-ordered, and
 - serve any drinks greater than the maximum drink sizes – by the "tray load", for example.

The general manager has also expressly prohibited the practice of pouring drinks into the mouths of customers. Establishments that permit such activities to occur can expect enforcement action.

Over-service and intoxicated patrons

It is your responsibility to make sure patrons do not become intoxicated while in your establishment or at a catered event.

You must not let a person who is apparently under the influence of alcohol or drugs enter or remain in your establishment or at a catered event. You must refuse the person service, have the person removed and see that he or she departs safely.

Physical signs of intoxication:

- red or bloodshot eyes
- dishevelled appearance
- odour of liquor
- unsteadiness on feet
- staggering
- exaggerated care in walking
- slurred speech
- fumbling with small objects such as money

Mental signs of intoxication:

- lack of alertness
- exaggerated emotions
- aggression
- irrationality

You also must write down all incidents of intoxicated patrons and the action you took in an incident log, and have the information available for the liquor inspector or police officers.

Disorderly or riotous conduct

You must not allow violent, quarrelsome, riotous or disorderly conduct or unlawful activities to take place in your establishment or at a catered event. This includes behaviour that might cause a reasonable person to believe his or her safety is threatened.

If you know or suspect that this kind of behaviour has taken place, is currently taking place or may take place, then you must notify the police immediately.

Weapons

A weapon is defined as anything used or intended for use:

- in causing death or injury to persons whether designed for that purpose or not, or
- in threatening or intimidating any person.

You are responsible for making sure a person with a weapon does not enter or remain in your establishment or at a catered event. If you know or suspect that one of your customers has a weapon, you should notify the police immediately.

Gaming

Gaming (also called gambling) is defined as playing or gaming, for money or other stakes, on an uncertain event; it involves chance and the hope of gaining something more than the amount paid to participate.

In most cases, all types of gaming licensed by the Gaming Policy and Enforcement Branch are permitted. However, if minors are allowed to be in your establishment (e.g. in a recreation centre lounge or a ski resort) you must not permit any gaming during the times when minors are allowed to be present except for ticket raffles and BC Lottery products.

You are responsible for exercising care and vigilance so gaming does not take place without your knowledge. This ensures that unlicensed gaming by your patrons does not take place and that you can ensure that gaming does not occur when minors are allowed to be in your establishment.

Unlicensed gaming pools, including those associated with major sporting events, are prohibited under the Criminal Code of Canada.

Employee conduct

Liquor consumption – You and your employees, including your employees who provide entertainment, may not consume liquor in your establishment during working hours. This includes breaks, meal periods and between shifts on the same day. You and your employees may not consume liquor at events.

After work, you and your employees may consume liquor at your liquor primary establishment, provided:

- You do not offer liquor to employees at a reduced price, or in lieu of wages or as a bonus.
- Your employees are of legal drinking age.
- You are serving and consuming the liquor during the hours of sale indicated on the face of your licence.

- You – as the licensee – are not treated differently than a regular patron.

Staff parties – You may hold a staff party in your licensed establishment, provided you are able to comply with the Regulations and the terms and conditions of your licence for the duration of the party. Staff, for example, may not consume liquor while on duty. If you cannot meet these conditions, you must apply for a Special Occasion Licence and a temporary suspension of your liquor primary licence.

Dress – Servers must wear clothes and must not combine the act of serving with stripping or exotic dancing. Servers must not wear brand-identified clothing where the size of the advertising is so prominent that it would result in your establishment promoting a specific brand of liquor.

Advertising Your Business

All your advertising must comply with the Canadian Radio-television and Telecommunications Commission's Code for Broadcast Advertising of Alcoholic Beverages and Liquor Control and Licensing Regulations (please see Appendix 4 for more on the broadcast code).

What You May Advertise

You may advertise:

- what kind of liquor you offer in general, such as domestic or imported wine, or that you specialize in martinis or scotch, for example
- what kind of liquor you offer specifically (you may use manufacturer and brand names)
- how much you charge for liquor (your liquor prices, including specials)
- your hours of sale
- any entertainment or food featured at your establishment.

Your ads may not:

- encourage people to drink liquor or to drink irresponsibly (you must take this into account if you mention price in your advertising; if your price advertising encourages or results in patrons drinking to excess, we can prevent you from including liquor prices in future advertising)
- show people drinking liquor, or anyone who is either intoxicated or behaving irresponsibly or illegally
- associate liquor with driving
- use pictures of minors (in B.C., that's anyone under the age of 19), or of personalities, images or activities that many appeal to minors
- be directed at minors or placed in locations used or visited mostly by minors, such as video arcades or playgrounds
- depict liquor as:
 - one of life's necessities
 - key to social acceptance or personal success
 - central to the enjoyment of an activity, or a status symbol
- promote contests and tournaments involving wet t-shirts, wet jockey shorts, bare-as-you-dare, or similar themes or activities.

Where You May Advertise

You may advertise your products anywhere – in newspapers, magazines and periodicals, or on television, radio or the Internet – provided the medium / program /site is not primarily directed at minors. You may also print pamphlets or brochures to advertise your business; these pamphlets or brochures may include graphics and pictures of your establishment.

Your signs may display:

- The name of your establishment.
- The kind of liquor you offer (including manufacturer and brand names).
- Your liquor prices.
- Your hours of sale.
- If your licence permits off-premises sales

Signs

Any signs, including signs bearing the name of your establishment, are considered to be advertisements and must comply with the advertising terms and conditions outlined in this guide. Your signs must also comply with local government bylaws.

Internet Group Discounts

The Liquor Control and Licensing Act prohibits a person from selling liquor, advertising the availability of liquor or advertising liquor pricing without a liquor licence. Therefore companies like Groupon.com or ethicalDeal.com cannot legally include liquor as part of a promotion. When we hear of internet companies doing so we request that they stop the promotion. Offers or deals that do not include liquor – such as food, or an entertainment admission discount, etc., are fine. Licensees participating in promotions that include liquor are contravening the terms and conditions of their licence.

If You Have a Catering Endorsement

You may advertise the catering services you offer, the type of liquor that may be offered for sale or service at events, and previous events you have catered. You must not otherwise advertise the availability, sale or service of liquor in relation to an ongoing or upcoming event or in relation to your catering business. This does not prevent you from advertising other aspects of your business.

Your catering ads may not include manufacturer and brand names, or information on liquor prices.

Entertainment

What you may offer at your liquor primary establishment

Live or recorded music, radio, television, and dancing are permitted in your liquor primary establishment, unless otherwise restricted by the general manager. This includes hosting a live radio or television broadcast from within your establishment, as long as the purpose of the broadcast is not the promotion of liquor.

You may also:

- Provide games of skill, including darts, pool, shuffleboard, video games and foosball, and games of chance (including card games), but for amusement only.
- Hold tournaments of skill and contests, provided:
 - patrons may enter without making a purchase or ordering a drink
 - you do not offer or give liquor as a prize, and your event does not involve the consumption of liquor
 - you do not require the winners to be present to collect their prize
 - your event does not involve a contact sport, and
 - neither you, your immediate family, nor your staff, may enter
- Show movies, provided the primary focus of your establishment does not shift to that of a movie theatre, and that all movies are shown in accordance with the Motion Picture Act and its Regulations. You may not show movies that are restricted, adult rated, or not rated
- Stage live prize-fighting, kick-boxing and similar contact sports events on your premises, provided you apply to the general manager for approval in advance, do not involve patrons, and take steps to protect both patrons and staff
- Offer adult entertainment, provided you post a sign to that effect at your entrance and identify when a cover charge is in effect (see additional rules for adult entertainment)
- Sell B.C. lottery products, unless otherwise restricted by the general manager
- Offer all types of gaming which are licensed by the Gaming Policy and Enforcement Branch and for which you have a licence, unless restricted by the general manager, and provided prizes do not include liquor or tokens redeemable for liquor.
- However, if minors are allowed to be in your establishment (e.g. in a recreation centre lounge or a ski resort) you must not permit any gaming during the times when minors are allowed to be present except for ticket raffles and the sale of BC lottery products.

Additional Rules for Tournaments and Contests:

- Manufacturer-sponsored tournaments are restricted to events held off the premises (unless your licensed establishment is located at a sports stadium, recreation centre, ski hill, racquet club, bowling alley, concert hall, or university/cultural centre).
- You may not charge an entry fee for contests (although you can for tournaments).
- Tournament prizes may include money, or the winner's name being entered into a draw.
- You may include information about the tournament or contest in any advertising
- While you are permitted to hold contests and tournaments involving wet T-shirt, wet jockey shorts, bare-as-you-dare, or similar themes or activities, they must conform to community standards; you may not advertise them; and they may not involve physical contact between patrons.

Adult Entertainment

Adult entertainment includes:

- exotic dancers – entertainers who remove clothing during a performance and/or perform in a sexually suggestive manner;
- adult-oriented performers – entertainers who present dramatic, musical, artistic, comedic or any other types of performances not suitable for viewing by minors characterized by nudity, actual or simulated sexual content, actual or simulated violence and/or abusive, hateful or obscene language;
- adult-oriented activities – activities not suitable for viewing by minors characterized by full or partial nudity, actual or simulated sexual content and/or actual or simulated violence, degradation or abuse.

Belly dancers are not considered adult-oriented performers.

If you are offering adult entertainment:

- The entertainers must be at least nineteen years of age and must wear appropriate clothing while walking through the audience, both before and after performances. This clothing may be part of their stage costume; however the clothing must provide coverage of the entertainer's breasts and genitalia.
- Performances must be confined to the stage or other approved areas (these areas will be noted on your liquor licence). No performing is allowed in the audience area.
- Animals may not form part of a performance, and are not permitted as entertainment except as approved by the general manager.
- You must ensure that adult-oriented performers, exotic dancers, and adult-oriented activities cannot be viewed from outside the licensed area – dividers or other separation must prevent a line of sight into the licensed area.
- The exotic dancers/adult-oriented performers may not act as servers or hold any other employment position in your establishment while working in their role as entertainers. However, when individuals are not working in their role as an entertainer, they may be employed as servers or hold positions of employment in your establishment and this may occur during the same shift.
- If an entertainer holds another employment position in the establishment, they must change out of their entertainer clothing and into clothing typical for the position they are tasked with prior to starting that position. Exotic dancing/adult entertainment must not be combined with serving or any other employment position.

Exotic dancers and/or adult-oriented performers may not:

- engage in live, realistic or simulated sex acts, or in any acts involving coercion or violence, either simulated or real
- insert any object into, or extract any object from, the vagina or anus
- urinate or defecate while performing
- touch, share food and beverages or pass objects to members of the audience or touch, share food and beverages with other performers
- dance/perform on table tops or other areas outside the approved areas
- deliberately engage a patron(s) in an adult-oriented performance or activity
- perform while intoxicated

Tipping and distribution of promotional material are permitted provided there is not physical contact between the entertainers and each other or with an audience member.

All licensed establishments that intend to provide adult entertainment are required to install surveillance cameras in all private show/VIP booths.

Entertainer Conduct

While professional entertainers may consume liquor in the establishment, employees who provide entertainment (such as a house DJ or house band) may not do so during working hours. As with patrons, it is the responsibility of the licensee to ensure that professional entertainers do not become intoxicated. If an entertainer becomes intoxicated they must be refused service, removed from the premises and the licensee must see that they depart safely from the establishment. An intoxicated entertainer must not be allowed into the licensed establishment.

Relations with Manufacturers, Agents and Sales Representatives

What You May and May Not Do

The Liquor Control and Licensing Act and its regulations set out strict rules regarding how you can work with liquor manufacturers and their agents and independent agents to promote their products.

Agents

There are three kinds of liquor agents in British Columbia:

- liquor manufacturers representing themselves in marketing and promoting the manufacturer's products off the manufacturer's site (an agent's licence is not required for liquor manufacturers who promote their products on-site only within a retail store or sampling room)
- agents hired by liquor manufacturers to represent the manufacturer inside British Columbia in marketing and promoting the manufacturer's products off the manufacturer's site, and*
- agents who market and promote imported products from outside British Columbia.

All agents must be licensed by the Liquor Control and Licensing Branch and must comply with the Act, its Regulations and the terms and conditions of their agent's licence when promoting and representing liquor products.

Agents may hire employees to promote and market the manufacturer's liquor products the agent is authorised to represent. Agents are responsible for making sure their employees follow B.C.'s liquor laws and the terms and conditions of the agent's licence. The agent must also provide their employees with identification establishing them as the agent's marketing representative.

Activities Not Permitted

Inducements

The Act prohibits you from asking for or receiving benefits for selling a particular liquor product. You may not, for example, demand that a manufacturer or agent supply additional product at either no cost or at a reduced cost, in return for purchasing their product.

You may accept information and ideas to help you improve your business, but this information must come directly from the manufacturer or agent, and not through an outside consultant. You may not accept advice about borrowing money or locating financing.

You are also prohibited from accepting any items, products or services from a manufacturer or agent that are necessary for the operation of your business. This includes money, credit or other forms of financial assistance, as well as fixtures, furnishings, products, repair costs, draught lines, glassware, games, refrigerators, shelving or permanent display structures.

In addition:

- A liquor manufacturer or agent may not rent rooms from you, then leave them unoccupied for you to rent again.
- You must always pay for your own advertising. A liquor manufacturer or agent may not pay all or a portion of your advertising costs (or vice versa), or advertise your entertainment line-up, drink specials, or menu items. With permission from a manufacturer or agent, you can include the manufacturer's logo in your ads, but you cannot demand or receive financial compensation or other consideration in return.
- A liquor manufacturer or agent may not pay for or provide entertainment in your establishment other than inexpensive forms of entertainment (such as games) during theme nights.

Activities Permitted With Approval

Tied houses

A tied house is a business that has an association - financial or otherwise - with a liquor manufacturer or its agent that is likely to lead to its products being favoured. This includes relationships where there is direct common ownership (i.e. where the same legal entity owns a manufacturer and a licensed establishment), indirect ownership (i.e. where a manufacturer is a shareholder in an entity that owns a licensed establishment), and relationships with a third party operator or a family member.

Small and medium sized manufacturers (a winery, brewery, or distillery) are permitted to apply for tied house relationships with up to three off-site licensed establishments. For full details on how to qualify and apply for this exception, please see section 3.2 of the Licensing Policy Manual.

If you are in a permitted tied house relationship with a manufacturer, this means you are allowed to promote that manufacturer's products, but unless you are located on the manufacturing site you must also offer a range of other products from different manufacturers. If you have been permitted a tied house association with one or more liquor manufacturers, you may feature their products, but you must also make a selection of products from other manufacturers available to your customers.

Without this tied house permission, you must not agree to sell only one manufacturer's products in your establishment or at an event, or to promote a particular product because of your association with a particular liquor manufacturer or agent. You are similarly prohibited from having an association, financial or otherwise, with a UBrew or UVin. You must carry a representative selection of liquor products from a variety of manufacturers.

If you have a catering endorsement, you must offer a range of products from a variety of different manufacturers for hosts to select from. However, at an event, you may limit the product selection available (i.e. feature only one manufacturer's product) at the request of the host.

For full details on how to qualify and apply for this exception, please see section 3.2 of the licensing policy manual.

Activities Permitted

Promotional items

You may accept promotional items of nominal value, such as coasters, tent cards, signs and posters from liquor manufacturers and agents, provided:

- Your menu already lists the brand of liquor identified in the promotional materials, and
- It does not appear that you are promoting a particular liquor product or the products of a particular manufacturer (brand-identified or corporately identified items of a particular liquor manufacturer must not predominate).

You may use brand-identified glassware, provided you purchase it at fair market value and you retain proof of purchase for two years for audit purposes.

You may buy clothing and novelties - such as shirts, caps, key chains, etc. - with the name or brand of a particular liquor or liquor manufacturer, and re-sell them to clients or employees. These items may display the name of your business.

You may accept T-shirts, hats and other promotional clothing items with a manufacturer's name or brand on them to give away to patrons. You may not take any promotional items for personal use or future promotions, and you may not sell them.

A liquor manufacturer or agent may loan you more expensive promotional items with the manufacturer's name or brand, such as signs, patio umbrellas, ceramic draught beer towers, mirrors, menu boards, etc. The manufacturer may also loan you temporary display structures and related promotional items (all displays and promotional items remain the property of the manufacturer).

You may not place bottles of liquor on tables as a promotional or point-of-sale device.

Product samples

As a way of introducing their products, a manufacturer or agent may give you product samples, but the amount you receive must not be more than one bottle of the smallest available size per product (or, for beer, cider and coolers, one dozen bottles or cans) in any one year.

You must keep a record of all samples received in your liquor register, including the date, name of the manufacturer or agent, name of the product and volume of the product. You or your staff only, in a private place outside the licensed area, may consume this product. It is not intended for your patrons and must not be served to them.

Size limits for product samples:

- Distilled spirits: One bottle of the smallest size available size per product (750ml or greater)
- Wine: The smallest available size per product per vintage (not exceeding two litres)
- Beer, cider, coolers: One dozen of the smallest available size bottles or cans (total not exceeding four litres).

Visits

There are strict limits on how liquor manufacturers and agents may act when they visit your bar or pub.

Mass treating or "buying drinks for the house" is not permitted, and manufacturers and agents may not leave money for this purpose. They may, however, purchase drinks for your patrons, provided you ensure that:

- The liquor serving provided to each customer at one time is not greater than the normal serving for your establishment
- Each order is paid for at the time it is served (the order may be put on a "tab" provided the

- account is settled before the agent leaves the establishment), and that drink prices are the same as you would charge regular patrons
- The manufacturer or agent does not treat more than one table at a time, except where it involves a bona fide sporting team, arts or cultural club
 - You issue a countersigned receipt for the dollar value of purchased product to the agent (both parties should retain a copy), and
 - The manufacturer or agent does not bring liquor products into your bar or pub for the purpose of sampling.

Contests (that are running in government liquor stores)

If a liquor manufacturer or agent is running a contest in government liquor stores, he or she may also hold that same contest in your bar or pub for the same period and with the same promotional materials on display.

If you agree to hold a contest in your bar or pub, the liquor manufacturer or agent must conduct the contest, install all promotional items, and remove all promotional items within 10 days after the contest has ended. The manufacturer/agent must also record the names of anyone who wins a prize valued at over $100.00.

You may include contest entry forms in your print ads, and may mention where entry forms are available in any of your advertising.

Contests (that are not running in government liquor stores)

You may hold contests in conjunction with a liquor manufacturer or agent that are not running in government liquor stores, provided the manufacturer/agent follows the Liquor Distribution Branch guidelines outlined in their booklet, In-Store Marketing Program.

The liquor manufacturer or agent must conduct all contests, install all promotional items, and remove all promotional items within 10 days after the contest has ended. The manufacturer/agent must also record the name of anyone who wins a prize valued at over $100.00.

You may include contest entry forms in your print ads, and may mention where entry forms are available in any of your advertising.

Theme nights

A theme night is an opportunity for you to work in collaboration with a liquor manufacturer or agent to promote the sale of a particular kind of liquor. (Theme nights are not allowed on university or college campuses.)

There are no limits on the number of theme nights you can hold, and you may include festive activities, such as games or prizes, in your theme nights.

If you and the liquor manufacturer or agent agree to put on a theme night:

- You must have food available for your patrons at

Maximum sample quantities you may serve per patron:

	SINGLE PRODUCT	MULTIPLE PRODUCT
Wines	30ml.	45ml.
Beer/Cider/Coolers	30 ml.	45 ml.
Spirits	10 ml.	20 ml.

The quantities for multiple product tasting apply only where you are presenting more than one product at a single tasting. The quantity for multiple products is a total of all products offered. For example, if you present three kinds of beer, you may offer a maximum quantity of 15 ml. of each to taste.

- all times during the theme night.
- You must ensure the event has an educational component, such as messages on the consequences of drinking and driving.
- You must ensure that drink prices are the same as you would charge regular patrons.
- If samples are provided, the manufacturer or agent must:
 - be present in the bar or pub during at least part of the event to make the offer or invitation to taste (not the bar staff)
 - purchase all sample products from you
 - do the dispensing, if a special service area is set up specifically for the event (if the samples are served using your bar or pub's usual facilities, your staff must dispense the product)
 - serve the samples individually (you may not serve them by the tray load).
- You must issue (and the manufacturer or agent must retain) a countersigned receipt for the dollar value of the total amount of liquor and/or food purchased.
- The liquor manufacturer or agent may provide inexpensive forms of entertainment during the theme night, such as games. (Payment for more expensive forms of entertainment – live performers or DJs, for example – is prohibited unless approved by the general manager.)
- If you provide games, contests and prizes as part of the theme night:
 - the liquor manufacturer or agent must record the name of anyone who wins a prize valued at over $100.00
 - prizes may have a liquor manufacturer's name or brand on them (unless the general manager directs otherwise)
 - prizes may not be liquor or drinks containing liquor, and
 - patrons must not be required to buy or drink an alcoholic beverage to participate.

Joint promotions/brewmaster's dinners

You may enter into a joint promotion with a liquor manufacturer or agent to feature a manufacturer's products during a special event, such as a brewmaster's or winemaker's dinner, provided the event includes a full meal and you purchase the liquor served at the event from your regular Liquor Distribution Branch liquor store or other designated outlet.

You and the manufacturer or agent may advertise the event. There are no limits to the number of joint promotions you may hold.

Sponsorships

You may sponsor events, activities, or organizations using your corporate name or the name of your licensed establishment. The sponsored event may be held at your establishment or off-site at an unlicensed venue or catered event . If you are permitted to have minors in your establishment, you may sponsor minors' events, activities, and organizations.

A licensee and manufacturer may jointly sponsor an event in a licensed establishment as long as the event or activity is time limited and the licensee does not have an on-going relationship with the manufacturer/agent. It is up to the manufacturer/agent to notify the branch before a sponsored event or activity takes place. Both the liquor primary establishment and the manufacturer may advertise the sponsored event or activity.

If you have a catering endorsement, a manufacturer or agent may sponsor activities at a catered event. The event or activity must be time limited, and the licensee must not have an on-going relationship with the manufacturer/agent.

Manufacturers and agents may also sponsor an event or activity at licensed stadiums, recreational centres, concert halls, and university or cultural centres

Educational events and activities

You may attend educational events or activities - such as an all-day "wine school" - put on by a liquor manufacturer or agent.

You may accept payment from the manufacturer or agent for legitimate travel, meal, accommodation, and entertainment expenses associated with the educational event, up to $1,000 per year per licensee location. If you have multiple licensed establishments – a chain of pubs, for example – you may also accept expenses of $1,000 per person to a maximum of $3,000 per head office per year.

Hospitality

A liquor manufacturer or agent may pay for your hospitality expenses not associated with an educational event, at a rate of up to $1,000 per licensee location per year. The manufacturer/agent may also pay for any legitimate in-province travel costs related to the event.

Relations with Liquor Manufacturers and Agents: A Summary

(Please review chapter for exact details)

Activities not permitted:

- Accept a benefit, including money, items, products or services, from a manufacturer/agent for selling a particular liquor product.
- Operate as a tied house (unless approved by the branch)

Activities permitted at any time:

- Hold a joint promotion (such as a brewmaster's or winemaker's dinner) with a manufacturer/agent
- Accept promotional items of nominal value from a manufacturer/agent, such as coasters or tent cards
- Buy promotional items such as branded shirts, caps or key chains from a manufacturer/agent at fair market value and re-sell them to patrons
- Accept product samples from a manufacturer/agent
- Allow a manufacturer/agent to visit your establishment and purchase drinks for your patrons.
- Conduct a consumer tasting with a manufacturer/agent
- Borrow from a manufacturer/agent more expensive promotional items, such as umbrellas, mirrors or menu boards, and temporary display structures and related promotional items
- Accept from a manufacturer/agent T-shirts, hats and other promotional clothing items to give away to patrons
- Attend educational events and activities put on by a manufacturer/agent and accept payment from the liquor manufacturer for your travel and other costs
- Accept payment from a manufacturer/agent for hospitality costs not associated with an educational event or activity
- Hold a theme night with a manufacturer/agent.

Inspections

Why We Inspect Licensed Establishments

Branch liquor inspectors conduct regular, unannounced inspections of licensed establishments (including catered events) to make sure licensees are following the Act and Regulations and their licence terms and conditions and the terms and conditions of a catering authorization, and to make sure there are timely consequences when they don't.

In addition, a liquor inspector may conduct an inspection:

- in response to a complaint from a member of the public, another licensee, a local government/First Nation, police or any other agency, or
- to follow-up on a Licensed Premises Check (LPC) issued by a police officer.

Entry of Liquor Inspectors and Police Officers

It is your responsibility as a licensee to fully cooperate during inspections. You must give liquor inspectors and police officers immediate access to all areas of your establishment, liquor storage area, or a catered event, on request. A liquor inspector will show you their official identification if you request; however, you must not do anything to impede a liquor inspector's or peace officer's entry into your establishment, liquor storage area, or a catered event. You must not request personal identification, scan identification, photograph, wand, pat down, or search inspectors or police. It is a serious contravention to refuse or delay in any way providing access to an inspector or police officer, and may result in your liquor licence being cancelled.

Producing Documents and Records

You must allow the general manager (or a designated person such as a liquor inspector) to inspect documents and records associated with your establishment, including:

- liquor sales, purchase and disposal records
- food sales records
- sales records, invoices and purchase receipts
- agreements and contracts with liquor manufacturers and agents or representatives
- lease and management contracts related to your licensed establishment
- employee records
- records of the quantity and price of liquor servings
- records of any incidents or events that occurred on or near the licensed premises, and
- any court orders or judgements against you.

If you have a catering endorsement, you must also keep records of catering contracts, copies of catering authorizations, and any local government approvals associated with events you catering.

Liquor Seizures and Sampling

Both liquor inspectors and the police have the authority to seize liquor they believe might be illicit from any licensed establishment or liquor storage area. They will either destroy the liquor immediately or hold it in storage for 30 days.

If you believe your liquor was wrongly seized, you must apply in writing to the General Manager of the Liquor Control and Licensing Branch for either the return of the liquor or monetary compensation within 30 days from the date of seizure. The claim must demonstrate to the General Manager's satisfaction that the liquor was lawfully possessed or kept for lawful purposes.

If the General Manager is satisfied that the liquor was lawfully possessed, the liquor will either be returned to you or you will be compensated for the LDB retail list price of the destroyed liquor.

If no application is made within 30 days, or if the General Manager is not satisfied on a claim for return of seized liquor that the liquor was lawfully possessed or kept, the liquor and packages containing it will be forfeited to the government.

Liquor inspectors may also take reasonable samples of liquor found in a licensed establishment or liquor storage area to determine whether the liquor is illegal, unauthorized, adulterated or contaminated. An inspector does not need evidence that the Act or Regulations have been breached to take a sample.

Enforcement

Contravention Notice

If a liquor inspector believes that you or your staff are contravening the Act, its Regulations or the terms and conditions of your licence or a catering authorization, the inspector must, in some circumstances, issue a Contravention Notice to you, that identifies the alleged contravention.

The inspector will then review the evidence and circumstances of the contravention in conjunction with the Liquor Control and Licensing Branch's file for your establishment. Based on that review, the inspector will decide whether to recommend that the general manager take enforcement action against you, as the licensee.

If the inspector does not recommend enforcement action, he or she will keep the Contravention Notice in the branch's file on your establishment, and may require you to attend a Compliance Meeting.

Compliance Meeting

A compliance meeting is a meeting between the licensee and inspector (and possibly others like staff, local police, government, and fire officials). The purpose of the meeting is to promote voluntary compliance with the liquor licensing rules and to assist the licensee in anticipating and creating solutions for potential problems.

The inspector will prepare a written record of what is discussed including any procedures the licensee intends to put in place to deal with the problem, and when they will come into effect. The inspector will provide a signed copy of the compliance meeting record to the licensee.

Compliance meetings are not a required step before the branch takes enforcement action.

Notice of Enforcement Action

If a liquor inspector recommends enforcement action, and the regional manager concurs, the licensee will receive a Notice of Enforcement Action. The Notice of Enforcement Action will include details of the allegation, the proposed penalty, why the branch is recommending enforcement action, and the reasons for the recommended penalty.

Enforcement Options

After receiving the Notice of Enforcement Action, you will be sent a letter outlining three available options to proceed. You must select one of the following options:

1. Waiver

Signing a waiver means that you:

- agree that the contravention occurred
- accept the penalty proposed in the Notice of Enforcement Action
- agree the contravention and penalty will form part of the compliance history of the licensed establishment, and
- waive the opportunity for an enforcement hearing

Please note:

As a licensee, you are legally responsible for understanding and complying with the requirements of the Act, its Regulations and the terms and conditions of your licence and catering authorization, and for any contraventions committed against your licence.

You are also responsible for making sure your employees follow B.C.'s liquor laws and the terms and conditions of your licence and catering authorizations, even when you are not on site.

As the licensee, you are responsible for any contraventions against your licence.

You may sign a waiver at any time prior to the hearing.

2. Written Submissions Hearing

In general, a written submissions hearing is used in cases where the only issue in dispute is the penalty. A hearing delegate, who is a delegate of the general manager, will consider the written submissions and evidence put forward by you and the branch and will issue a written decision regarding the penalty.

3. Oral Hearing

Oral hearings may be conducted in-person, via teleconference or any combination of the two. At an oral hearing, the hearing delegate will consider the evidence and argument presented by you and branch. The hearing delegate will decide whether the alleged contravention(s) occurred and what penalty, if any, is warranted. The hearing delegate issues a written decision after the hearing.

You may represent yourself at a hearing, be represented by a lawyer, or be represented by someone with written authority to act on the licensee's behalf.

Pre-hearing Conference

The licensee may be required to participate in a pre-hearing telephone conference conducted by the branch's registrar. At a pre-hearing conference, the registrar will:

- confirm the licensee's response to the allegations
- set the date of any enforcement hearing
- clarify the issues that will be addressed at any hearing
- identify and discuss the evidence that both the licensee and the branch plan to present at a hearing (this includes the names of any witnesses who will testify)
- arrange for the exchange of any documents or other evidence that will be introduced at the hearing
- explain the hearing process

Note:

You may represent yourself at a hearing, be represented by a lawyer or you may be represented by someone with written authority to act on your behalf.

Where the registrar sets a pre-hearing conference and the licensee does not participate, the licensee may lose the opportunity for an oral hearing, and the general manager may make a decision based on the written submissions only.

Possible Enforcement Action

Once an enforcement hearing is concluded, if the hearing delegate decides the contravention occurred, they may:

- suspend the liquor licence for a period of time
- impose a monetary penalty
- cancel a liquor licence
- impose, rescind or amend the terms and conditions of a licence
- order a licensee to transfer a licence

If the hearing delegate finds that either a licence suspension or monetary penalty is warranted, they may not impose a penalty less than the minimum penalty set out in Schedule 4 of the Regulation. The hearing delegate may impose higher penalties when it is in the public interest to do so. They are not bound by the penalties proposed in the Notice of Enforcement Action.

The type of penalty imposed will depend on a number of factors, including: the nature of the contravention, the circumstances of the contravention, and the compliance history.

Suspensions and monetary penalties will include the requirement to post signs demonstrating the enforcement action. Signs will be posted by either the police or branch staff in a prominent location in the establishment. You must not remove, alter, obscure or otherwise diminish the prominence of these signs during the period they are required to be posted. Doing so may result in further enforcement action.

Any enforcement action imposed will form part of the compliance history of the licensed establishment.

Serving Liquor While Under Suspension

For most liquor primary establishments, if the enforcement process results in your liquor primary licence being suspended, your liquor primary establishment must close and no public activities of any sort may take place. For example, you must not rent your establishment for a series of pre-teen dances. Furthermore, you must not allow liquor sales or service under a special occasion licence in or on any adjacent property which is under your control.

However, if you have an event driven liquor primary licence (commonly issued for establishments whose primary purpose is not the service of liquor such as stadiums, conference centres and theatres), if the enforcement process results in your liquor primary licence being suspended, your establishment may remain open and continue its primary purpose but all liquor service is prohibited during the times specified in the suspension order. Furthermore, you must not allow liquor sales or service under a special occasion licence in your establishment or in or on any adjacent property which is under your control.

Failure to abide by your suspension, including allowing branch officials to post suspension signs, is a serious contravention that could lead to an extended licence suspension, cancellation or transfer of your liquor licence.

Judicial Review

If you are dissatisfied with an enforcement hearing decision, you may apply to the B.C. Supreme Court for a judicial review.

APPENDIX 1: Penalty Schedule

Schedule 4 Enforcement Actions

Interpretation

1 (1) For the purposes of this Schedule,

- (a) a contravention is of the same type as another contravention if each contravention is described by the same item of this Schedule, and
- (b) a contravention by a licensee is
 - (i) a first contravention if the contravention was committed at or in respect of an establishment and the licensee has not committed a contravention of the same type at or in respect of that establishment within the 12 month period preceding the commission of the contravention,
 - (ii) a second contravention if the contravention was committed at or in respect of an establishment and the licensee has committed one contravention of the same type at or in respect of that establishment within the 12 month period preceding the commission of the contravention, and
 - (iii) a subsequent contravention if the contravention was committed at or in respect of an establishment and the licensee has committed a second contravention of the same type at or in respect of that establishment within the 12 month period preceding the commission of the contravention.
- (c) a contravention by a caterer with a catering licence is
 - (i) a first contravention if the contravention was committed at or in respect of an event catered by the caterer and the licensee has not committed a contravention of the same type at or in respect of an event catered by the caterer within the 12 month period preceding the commission of the contravention,
 - (ii) a second contravention if the contravention was committed at or in respect of an event catered by the caterer and the licensee has committed one contravention of the same type at or in respect of an event catered by the caterer within the 12 month period preceding the commission of the contravention, and
 - (iii) a subsequent contravention if the contravention was committed at or in respect of an event catered by the caterer and the licensee has committed a second contravention of the same type at or in respect of an event catered by the caterer within the 12 month period preceding the commission of the contravention.

(2) In section 20 (1) (c.1) of the Act and in Item 13 of this Schedule, "reasonable measures" means, in respect of a licensee, measures that are

- (a) reasonable in the circumstances, and
- (b) reasonably within the capacity of the licensee to effect.

2 (1) Despite section 68 (1) of this regulation, the enforcement actions under section 64 (2) (a) or referred to in section 65(1) of this regulation that apply to the contravention set out in subsection (2) of this section include a monetary penalty for each contravention, and the amount of the monetary penalty that may be imposed for each contravention may be up to $25,000.

(2) The failure by the manufacturer to comply with the terms and conditions of the manufacturer's licence to comply with an agreement under section 5 [agreements] of the Liquor Distribution Act is a contravention.

APPENDIX 2: Taking Reasonable Measures to Prevent Disturbances

Types of disturbances	What you can do to reduce these disturbances
Noise caused by people talking on the street in the line-up	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Limit the length of your line-up • Put up signs by the line-up and monitor the line-up to remind people of noise issues. • Make structural changes to accommodate indoor line-up areas
Noise caused by people leaving your establishment throughout the day	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Put up signs by your exit doors • Conduct staff training sessions to review "Serving It Right" principles
Noise caused by people leaving your establishment at closing time	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Put up signs by your exit doors • In the hour before you close, issue an announcement reminding people to be aware of your "good neighbour" policy • Post staff by exits to remind customers to be considerate of nearby residents, and keep noise to a minimum • Apply to the branch for permission to extend the time period within which customers must vacate the premises at closing time (It is normally half-an-hour but you can apply to extend that time up to one hour to reduce the size of departing groups.)
Noise from music and other forms of entertainment that is ongoing and can be heard by nearby residents from within their homes	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Close windows and upgrade ventilation systems • Upgrade to double-sealed windows • Reduce music volumes and monitor noise levels • Eliminate bass frequencies that penetrate concrete and other structural materials • Meet with neighbours to discuss options - strive to cooperate
Noise of music that is intermittent and can be heard by nearby residents from within their homes, when customers open the door to go in or out of your establishment	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Install a second door • Reduce music volumes • Meet with neighbours to discuss options - strive to cooperate
Indecent or illegal behaviour (e.g., urinating in public, sex in public, drinking in parked cars in adjacent parking lot) in and around the entrance to your establishment and in controlled parking areas.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Put up extra lights on the side of your building, directed to problem areas • Install video cameras directed at parking lot vehicles • Assign security staff to patrol parking lots • Cooperate with local police to set up more parking lot patrols • Refuse entry to customers who go frequently to and from cars

APPENDIX 3: Making Changes to Your Licence or Appointment

Changes that Require Approval from the General Manager

Permanent change

You must apply for a permanent change if you want to:

- change the name of your business
- change your hours of sale
- change anyone or any company – owners, partners, shareholders, corporations or holding companies
- transfer shares either externally to new shareholders, or internally between current shareholders, if you are a private corporation
- add a receiver or executor
- hold live contact sports events
- offer self service in stadium private suites or boxes
- add a catering endorsement

Structural change

You must apply for a structural change if you want to:

- change the layout of your establishment
- change (or add to) the structure of your building
- increase your capacity to the occupant load of the building as determined by fire/building officials
- add an outdoor patio
- change (or add) a designated smoking room
- if you own a golf course and would like to serve liquor from a cart or kiosk

Transfer of location

You must apply for a transfer of location if you want to:

- re-locate your business

Third-party or resident manager change

You must apply for a third-party operator or resident manager change if you want to:

- change (or add) a third-party lessee or management firm operating within your licensed establishment
- change your resident manager, if you are a non-resident private corporation, or not involved in the day-to-day operation of your establishment.

Temporary change

You must apply for a temporary change if you want to:

- make a change or changes for a relatively short period – usually for a special event, such as an unlicensed event for minors, or to allow time for renovations or structural alterations. These changes may include temporarily extending your normal hours of sale, your usual capacity, and/or the area that is covered by your liquor licence, or temporarily moving your business to another location entirely.

Application Forms, Documentation and Other Required Approvals

The application form, documentation and approvals you will need depend on the type of change you are asking for. For example:

- To extend your hours of sale, you will need an Application for Permanent Change to a Liquor Licence, and a resolution from your local government of First Nation
- To alter the structure or layout of your building, you will need an Application for a Structural Change, and to supply large scale floor plans
- To change or add a third-party lessee or management firm, you will need an Application for a Third-Party Operator or Resident Manager, and to supply a range of company documents and a completed criminal record search form for each new person
- To transfer shares, you will need an application for a Permanent Change to a Licensee, and all shareholders will need to agree to a criminal record check.

The individual application forms explain the documentation and/or approvals required for each type of change. The Fee Schedule for Licence Changes lists the fee charged for each type of change.

Criminal Record Checks

Some changes will require that you consent to a criminal record check. To do so, you must complete both the Personal History Summary and Consent to Criminal Record Search form and the RCMP's Consent for Disclosure of Criminal Record Information.

Applicants who have applied for a liquor licence and consented to a criminal record search within the previous 12 months are exempt, unless requested to consent to another search by the general manager.

Applicants living outside of Canada, refugees and landed immigrants who have been in Canada for less than five years and anyone who has been charged or convicted of a crime must also provide a statutory declaration – signed by a lawyer, Notary Public, or Commissioner for Taking Affidavits – stating either that they have not been charged or convicted of a crime, or providing details of any past charges, convictions or sentences. In addition, landed immigrants who have been in Canada less than five years must attach a copy of their “Record of Landing” (Form IM1000, Permanent Resident Card or equivalent documentation) as provided by Citizenship and Immigration Canada when they entered the country.

Once we have the required documents, we will send them on to the RCMP. The agency will check the person's name and birth date and other information against criminal records across Canada, and report back to us with the final results:

- If the search reveals no criminal record, we will continue to process your change request
- If the RCMP are unable to confirm the information you provided on the Statutory Declaration, and if the search reveals a possible relevant criminal record, we will ask you to go to the local police or RCMP station to provide fingerprints. (The police may charge a fee for this service.) Specially trained analysts will compare these fingerprints to the prints associated with the criminal record.

Application forms:

Forms are available under “Liquor Licensing” on the provincial government’s website: www.pssq.gov.bc.ca/lclb

or, are available from the Liquor Control and Licensing Branch:

Phone- toll-free: 1 866 209-2111
E-mail: lclb.lclb@gov.bc.ca

- Even if it turns out that an applicant does have a criminal record, however, it does not mean we will automatically turn down the application. We will look carefully at the circumstances of the individual case - the severity of the crime and when it was committed, for example, and what the applicant has done to change his or her behaviour since then – and how the type of crime committed relates to the responsibilities that go with holding a liquor licence.

APPENDIX 4: CRTC Code For Broadcast Advertising of Alcoholic Beverages

Commercial messages for alcoholic beverages shall not:

- attempt to influence non-drinkers of any age to drink or purchase alcoholic beverages;
